Is U.S. on decline?

THE BALD EAGLE thinks that our country may be following in the footsteps of Great Britain.

Citing the concerns of people that have lived through the recent decline of Britain, Bob Ameen brings a warning of possible things to come. Turn to Page A-6

Halloween change

THIS WEEK'S ANP OPINION suggests that it may be beneficial to remove the 'Trick' from Halloween's Trick or Treat.

A group of confectioners have offered a substitute for the classic cry. If they have their way, the kids will be substituting 'Meet and Treat' for the Halloween greeting.

Warn on night driving

STATE MOTORISTS are reminded that nightfall, the most dangerous period of the day for car-pedestrian accidents, especially those involving youngsters, comes an hour earlier after the switch to Eastern Standard Time at 2 a.m. Sunday. Story on Page A-10.

Hits DeHoCo closing

WAYNE COUNTY Commissioner Richard E. Manning has warned Gov. William Milliken that "incredible chaos" and multi-million dollar costs will result, if the Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) is sold for use as a state prison without careful planning first. Story on Page A-2.

CB license problem

THE FEDERAL Communications Commission and the Office of Management and Budget of the White House are running into a problem that could put a damper on our present CB licensing system. That's the word from Nightbird on Page A-4.

Offer diabetes test

FREE TESTING for diabetes will be available at 141 hospitals and laboratories throughout Michigan during Diabetes Detection Week Nov. 6-12. The testing is offered as a service of the American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate and cooperating hospitals. See story on Page A-5.

Crime needs study

STRONG ACTION should be taken to get criminals off the streets, but the long-range solution to crime lies in improved education and employment. That was the central theme of a report from the Criminal Justice Forum, a year-long opinion-gathering project. See story on Page A-10.

Historic landmark burns

The charred ruins of the historic Romulus Depot hang silhouetted against the sky like giant black icicles. Catching fire about 2 p.m. last Thursday, the historic 20 by 80-foot depot, built in 1904, was destroyed. A well-known landmark for decades in Romulus and the scene of much activity in former years, the depot was used lately as a freight house. Norfolk and Western, owners of the destroyed building, leased part of the depot out to Chesapeake and Ohio Railroad.

Grants for Belleville will aid crime fight

Belleville is one of three cities in the 13th State Senatorial District which will receive federal grants to assist their efforts in reducing juvenile delinquency and increasing police efficiency.

The grants totaling some $225,918 were announced by State Sen. William Faust (D-Westland).

Those cities receiving funds are Belleville, scheduled to receive $76,747 for an improved police communication system; Taylor, which will receive $101,681 for a Specialized Youth Unit; and Westland, which will receive $47,490 for a Youth Energy Service.

Faust explained that Taylor and Westland will use the funds specifically to curtail problems among juveniles residing in those areas.

In Taylor the Specialized Youth Unit operating within the Taylor police department will be expanded to follow-up on juvenile complaints in a larger geographical area.

In the city of Westland the funds will be used to continue a Youth Energy Service previously funded by the Office of Criminal Justice Programs. This service has reduced the recidivism rate of apprehended youth in the area by 32 percent.

In Belleville a police dispatch system will be installed to reduce the congestion now experienced on the sheriff's department radio frequency, according to the Westland Democrat.

These grants, available through the 1973 Crime Control Act and awarded by the Michigan Office of Criminal Justice Programs, will be matched with state and local funds.

Cause unknown

Historic train depot is destroyed by fire

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

"I saw smoke coming out of the warehouse section as I rounded the corner.

"I rushed up and kicked open the locked door. By the time I grabbed my fire extinguisher from my office and returned, the building was ablaze.

"In less than 10 minutes the whole building was on fire."

This is the way Bill Beecham, a freight agent for the Chesapeake and Ohio, described the fire which destroyed the historic Romulus train depot last Thursday afternoon.

Built in 1904, the gray frame building, which stood by the corner of Goddard and Shook roads for 73 years, was destroyed in less than two hours.

The fire, which began about 2 p.m., started in the east end of the building, which served as a depot and freight house for both C & O and Norfolk and Western Railroad.

Beecham, 30, who has worked for the C & O Railroad for 10 years, stood and watched the ancient historic depot slowly die.

"The city was trying to preserve the depot as a landmark," Beecham reflected. "All our records were burned, except what we had in our safe. It will take awhile, but we will be able to rebuild our records."

Beecham talked with a reporter as four Romulus firefighters poured gallons of water on the smoking ruins in an effort to douse the blaze.

Two hours after the fire started, the 20 by 80-foot gray building had been reduced to an empty hulk of black, charred ruins. The asbestos roof, melted from the extreme heat, had ragged burned edges hanging down like black icicles.

C & O Clerk Larry Bellott, 29, who has grown up in Romulus, reported for work when the firemen were finishing putting out the fire.

"I live on Berry Street in Romulus and was just pulling up at 4 p.m. and there was nothing left of the building," Bellott said.

A 1966 graduate of Romulus High School, Bellott has worked for C & O for six years and at the Romulus depot the past seven months.

"You know, it's kind of funny," Bellott said as he shook his head. "Some of us were just talking about this yesterday. We agreed that if a fire ever started in this building, the entire depot would go up in a hurry."

Authorities are still investigating the cause of the fire.

Norfolk and Western owned the building, which had two 10 by 20-foot offices, a warehouse section and another room.

Suit erupts over refusal to disclose water bills

Is the amount of your city water bill your own private information or is it a matter of public record?

That's the question Mike Herman, director of Romulus Water Dept., will have to answer at a show cause hearing Friday in Detroit Circuit Court before Judge Michael L. Stacey.

Herman, and the City of Romulus, are defendants in a lawsuit brought by Mrs. Carole Bales, 15446 Anthony, to obtain the water billing records of mayoral candidates William Oakley and Terry L. Troutt from the first billing period of 1965 to the present time.

Mrs. Bales, an avowed Troutt supporter, earlier had written a letter to Herman dated Oct. 3 requesting the information.

Herman, acting on counsel from the city attorney, refused to give out the information, contending it was not public information.

"It has been my advisement that the water account of any individual is his-private business," Herman wrote Mrs. Bales.

"Should that individual wish to release the information it is his prerogative to do so. But the release of information must be made in writing by the individual concerned."

Herman said he heard nothing further until Robert Plank, another strong Troutt backer, delivered the summons to Herman for the latter to appear in court for the 2 p.m. show cause hearing Friday.

Pupils collect $2,000 in Jaycee fund walk

Some 60 Romulus students battled rain, thunder and lightning last Saturday to collect approximately $2,000 in the local Jaycee Walk-a-thon over a 20-mile course.

Funds will go to the annual Jaycee Christmas party and gifts for needy youngsters in the Romulus area.

Fred Coleman, co-sponsor of the event, said any resident still wishing to donate can do so by sending a check to: Romulus Jaycees, c/o Fred Coleman, 9650 S. Wayne Rd., Romulus, Mich. 48174.

Participants in the walk-a-thon will be treated to a dance Friday, Nov. 4, from 6:30 to 9:30 p.m. at the Romulus Senior High School. Admission is $1 for all non-walkers, with dance proceeds going to the Christmas party.

For further information, call Coleman at 941-2170.

Candidates are warned about signs

All candidates seeking office in the Romulus city election Nov. 8 have been issued a warning not to place political signs on public right-of-ways or on trees.

Jay Young, public information officer, notified all candidates at the request of the Department of Public Works and Public Safety that violations of the city sign ordinance would result in signs being removed and stored at DPW headquarters.

Young's warning also informed candidates that confiscated signs would not be released until a payment of $5 per sign was made to the city clerk. Signs not claimed within 30 days from date of removal will be destroyed, he said.

Candidates were also told not to place political signs on private property without the owner's permission, or to locate them on county roads within the city limits.

A safer Halloween? Jaycees tell how

As a public service gesture, the Romulus Jaycees each year publish a list of safety suggestions to parents to help make the annual observance of Halloween a safer one for their children.

Such precautionary tips have become almost a necessity during recent years when a few unthinking or malicious individuals seemingly go out of their way to harm children in the pursuit of Halloween fun.

To help make this year a more safe Halloween, members of the Romulus police reserves and the Department of Public Works will patrol local streets.

The Jaycee suggestions to minimize accidents and help ensure a good time for all children this Halloween are:

— Have an adult go with each group of children, especially the very young. Give the oldest a flashlight.

— Stay in familiar territory, preferably in your own neighborhood.

— Accept nothing from people in parked cars.

— Look both ways before crossing the street.

— Dress so that mask or costume will not greatly hinder vision or movements. Widen the eye holes with scissors if necessary.

— Dress in bright clothing and stick reflective tape on costumes or trick-or-treat bags.

— Do not eat anything while you are on the street, wait until you get home.

— Parents should promptly empty the contents of the Halloween bag and examine each piece.

— Cut open all apples and oranges and throw away all unwrapped candy.

— Report any dangerous objects found in the candy or fruit to your local police. Suggestions to driving parents are:

— Drive slowly and warily.

— Watch for children darting out between parked cars.

— Tap your horn occasionally on dimly lighted residential streets.

— Be extremely cautious while backing out of driveways.

Sale of DeHoCo to state could cause county 'chaos'

Wayne County Commissioner Richard E. Manning has warned Gov. Milliken that "incredible chaos" and multi-million dollar costs will result, if Detroit House of Correction (DeHoCo) is sold for use as a state prison without careful planning.

As chairman of the jail construction subcommittee of the Board of Commissioners, Manning is responsible for planning the housing of jail prisoners.

Manning issued his warning in a letter to the governor, following a meeting between Milliken and Detroit Mayor Coleman Young at which Young urged that the state buy DeHoCo as a state prison site.

"If the Detroit House of Correction closes precipitously, there will be incredible chaos in housing some 800-850 men and certainly a strong public reaction for failing to plan in advance for a change of this magnitude," Manning warned the governor.

His letter pointed out that the county would become responsible for housing some 850 men who are serving up to 90 days in DeHoCo for misdemeanor convictions. Closing of the DeHoCo women's division recently imposed the housing of female misdemeanants on the county. They are being housed in the jail annex in Westland.

Housing of male prisoners could cost the county some $13 million in the face of the worst county budget crisis in history, Manning said.

Manning noted that although the county has a major stake in the matter, county officials have not been included in the negotiations between city and state.

He told the governor that if DeHoCo, located in Plymouth Township, is to be sold to the state, the county should be a party to the negotiations and have "substantial lead time" to prepare prisoners' housing.

Manning said he recently asked Mayor Young if his administration planned to close out the men's division at DeHoCo and got "no definitive answer". He later learned about the meeting between Milliken and Young through news reports.

Manning said the complicated problems involved in a county takeover of male misdemeanor housing could take months to work out.

Not the least of these problems, he said, is the fact that the county does not have the legal power to acquire land through condemnation. This means a city or township would have to be willing to rezone property in order for the county to build a correctional facility.

"I have had no success to this date in finding any community that would accept a prison facility by itself," Manning told the governor. "I find that there is some possibility of locating a prison site, if we were to construct a service center which would include court services as well as services of the County Clerk, Treasurer, Register of Deeds, Prosecutor and Sheriff."

But, he continued: "the Detroit Administration is strongly opposed to any service center complex outside of the City of Detroit."

Financing construction also would be a problem, Manning warned. He noted that the county cannot issue general obligation bonds without a vote of the people and already faces a $13.3 million budget deficit.

Variances from local building codes would have to be arranged and special state legislation would have to be passed to enable the county "to create a new prison system," Manning added.

Simple decorating tricks could make Halloween safe

Some simple costume decorating tricks can do a lot to help protect children from accidental injury on Halloween, says the Michigan Optometric Association.

The key is for parents to make costumes that will be seen easily by drivers and that will not block the child's view of traffic, steps, curbs and other hazards.

"Adding retro-reflective material to a costume is the easiest and best way to increase its visibility to safe levels," said Dr. Robert L. Klein, president of the optometric organization.

According to optometric studies at Indiana University, retro-reflective material on shoes and clothing makes pedestrians safely visible to drivers even at speeds of 70 and 80 mph. Nothing else, not even white clothing, can top it.

Retro-reflective material can be purchased in iron-on, sew-on and stick-on varieties in most hardware and department stores. It should be applied to the front, sides and back of the costume. Dr. Klein said, can be incorporated into the costume design.

"The other side of Halloween safety," Dr. Klein said, "is to throw away those masks and use non-allergic makeup instead. Masks can slip out of place or have eye holes so small they restrict a child's view."

He cautioned that makeup should be applied carefully by adults to keep makeup particles and applicators out of the child's eyes.

Dr. Klein also reminded parents to have their child's eyes examined regularly. "Poor vision can be a great handicap, not only at Halloween, but throughout the year," he said.

Time for people spells success for Wimsatt firm

"Time with people" is how Bob Hoffman, vice-president and general manager, explains the continuing success of Wimsatt Building Center in Wayne.

"We spend as much time as needed with each customer. We tell them how to perform the do-it-yourself jobs at home, and we also tell them where to get items we don't have in stock," he said.

After 20 years on the east side of Detroit, Wimsatt, a family-oriented and family-operated business, moved to Wayne in 1956 at its present location at 36340 Van Born Road. The firm's 41 years in business attests to acceptance by the public it is dedicated to serve.

Hoffman, who is married to the former Susan Wimsatt, who functions as assistant treasurer, emphasized that home delivery also is one of the company's chief public service features.

Wimsatt delivers home improvement products in an approximate 25-mile radius in the tri-county area of Wayne, Washtenaw and Oakland. Some customers come from as far away as Royal Oak, Hoffman said.

The company's latest expansion of its retail sales division was celebrated July 7 with a grand opening sale and was one of several expansions over the last few years needed to keep pace with growing business.

Wimsatt's wholesale division is called Wimsatt Bros. As a member of Hardware Wholesale Inc. (HWI), it shares in the volume purchase of products to enable sizable discounts to its customers.

Wimsatt is a complete home building and home improvement center. In addition to a fully-stocked lumber yard, its retail division offers just about everything — paints, roofing, insulation, paneling, and nails and other hardware items still sold by the pound.

Open six days a week, Wimsatt's hours are 7 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 7 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday. Some 11 acres of land afford abundant parking space for customers.

Hoffman also stressed that Wimsatt provides material "takeoffs" for those customers who bring in house plans.

"We will provide everything that is needed to build a customer's new house and we will ship the complete house package from the foundation up," he explained.

The latest expansion and remodeling enables customers to view a broad range of home improvement products attractively displayed in the large display room just inside the front entrance.

Wimsatt accepts major credit cards and does business on a cash-and-carry basis, or by delivery, if requested.

Wimsatt advertises itself as "the friendly ones" and that goes for all of the seven members of the family actively involved in the working side of the business. David Wimsatt functions as president of the retail division. In the wholesale division, Daniel Wimsatt is president, Timothy is vice-president, Danny Jr. is salesman, Margaret is secretary, and Steve is yardman.

George Archibald, not family related, services as vice-president and store manager for the center.

Wimsatt is located 1 1/4 miles west of Wayne Road.

A new look

With 41 years of experience behind it, the Wimsatt Building Center in Wayne knows what its customers want. And to better serve their needs, the firm recently expanded to add a new display area. The family-owned and -operated business cites "time with people" as the reason for their success. With everything for the do-it-yourselfer, the firm also offers home delivery as one of its services. The building center is located at 36440 Van Born Road, Wayne.—ANP photo.

Candidates discuss issue of senior citizens housing

In last week's Romulus Roman, the following question was asked of the 14 candidates running for City Council and two candidates running for Mayor of Romulus in the Nov. 8 general election:

"Are you in favor of more senior citizen housing? The candidates who responded were:

JIMMIE C. RASPBERRY (Council) — "My opinion of senior citizen's housing is one of my priorities and has been over a period of years.

"As a matter of public record in the City Council minutes, housing for the disabled and handicap is included.

"I might say that the City Council has designated a developer for housing for senior citizens, Handicap and disabled persons and has made application for state funding for such project."

BROOKER EDWARDS (Council) — "Too often in the past senior citizens have been pushed aside and their needs ignored.

"Our senior residents are the foundation upon which our city is built and, as such, should be accorded foremost consideration when considering housing to be constructed in Romulus.

"I strongly support quality senior citizen housing to be located in our city and will work toward that end, if elected."

RAY CANTRELL (Council) — "Senior citizens are a vital and valued segment of our community. To date, no senior citizen housing has been erected in our city.

"However, there presently are two separate projects currently under consideration by the city, and if elected, I will do my best to see that Romulus will soon have quality housing for its elder residents."

MARY ANN BANKS (Council) — "Yes, I am in favor of senior citizen housing for Romulus.

"Our community must keep in step with the needs of all our citizens. This housing development should be located in an area convenient to shopping and offices frequented by our senior citizens.

"Precautions must be provided for the safety and well-being of the senior citizens."

DAVID A. FERDON (Council) — "Of course I am in favor of senior citizens housing.

"The questions are where, who will it serve, how will it be managed, who will subsidize it, are proposals in line with our Master Plan.

"Will the facility allow for expansion? Will it be tied to bureaucratic restrictions?

"Can Romulus citizens afford to use it? Are residence projections valid? Will the environment reflect the value of our citizens?"

"When we resolve those questions, we will have our facility."

BILL OAKLEY (Mayor) — "This week's question is misleading, in that Romulus currently has no senior citizen housing, a deplorable situation that I will seek to remedy.

"My position is that senior citizen housing should be situated in a centralized location, which will greatly enhance the possibility of providing them with additional services in the areas of transportation, medical care and shopping."

This week's question for both mayoral and 14 City Council candidates is: "Do you feel that City Council seats should remain part-time or should be made into full-time positions with proportionately larger salaries?"

Please limit answers to 50 words or less. Candidates' responses should be in Roman's Belleville or Wayne office no later than 5 p.m. Friday and will be printed in next week's issue.

'20s, '30s, '40s grads plan 5-year reunion

The Romulus High School Alumni Association is planning a 1978 reunion of the graduating classes of the 1920s, 1930s and 1940s.

The event is held every five years and attracts approximately 400 graduates from those years.

Anyone from any of these years is asked to call 721-2497 or 722-2266 after 5 p.m., regarding the planning of the next reunion to be held in May 1978.

"We'd like to have as many as possible come to the next reunion," said Joe Fisher, who is helping to head up the event. "You know, there weren't all that many graduates each year back in those three decades, and we're trying to get news of the gathering to as many of the RHS grads as possible."

Graduates of the '20s, '30s and '40s are urged to call before Nov. 14, so plans for the big event can get underway as soon as possible.

Officers installed

New officers were elected recently to lead the Romulus Rotary Club for the coming year. Named to the 6-man group were Gil White (from left) director; Percy Lilley, director; Harlan Whichello, secretary; Vince Makino, president, Bill Oakley, vice-president; and Gordon Silvey, treasurer. Dr. Robert Young of Dearborn Rotary Club was guest speaker for the evening and spoke on "Rotary Youth Exchange". — ANP photo.

Carrier of the Week

Keith Poet has been a carrier for Associated Newspapers for 16 months and when you ask him why he's doing it, his answer is simple: "I needed some money." The 13-year-old is an eighth grader at St. Stephen's School in New Boston. The son of Hugh and Jean Poet of Craig, New Boston, the teen's interests include basketball.

Halloween party set

This Sunday children from the special religious education program at St. Aloysius Church of Romulus will be begging for the poor after the 10 a.m. and 12 noon Masses.

"Through the generous efforts of our parish family, this project has always been a huge success for the children," said Beatrice Shepard, director of the special religious education program.

"The money collected is given to the Helping Hand Thrift Shop in order for them to buy baby clothing for new mothers who are in need.

"God tells us to love your neighbor and the children are attempting to express this love through their good deed of begging for the poor," Mrs. Shepard said.

"Your continued help and support is greatly appreciated," said Director

Florence Klein of Helping Hand, who added that any other church groups or organizations can help donate if they wish.

Mrs. Klein can be called at 941-5323.

We the People set meeting

Speakers from two different groups in Romulus will highlight tomorrow night's meeting of "We The People", a non-partisan, civic group.

The 7:30 p.m. meeting in the community room at Romulus City Hall will feature Sgt. Ron Brown of the Wayne County Sheriff's Department and also Doug Baum, chairman of the school advisory committee.

Brown, aided by two volunteer Romulus Police Reserves, will explain their unit's relationship to the city, why the Reserves were organized, point out their duties and what they feel they can contribute to the City of Romulus.

The second part of the meeting will be turned over to Baum, whose 11-member committee has been studying the conditions surrounding the Romulus Community Schools and how to get the facts to the residents before the Nov. 8 millage election.

Baum will bring the public up to date on how his committee's meetings with parents, school board and administrators have been going.

Richard Campbell, acting president of "We The People," said Brown and Baum would both answer questions from the audience after their presentations.

"The meeting should prove to be very informative and timely," said Campbell, who is very active in community activities.

"Citizens interested in the welfare of Romulus are invited to the meeting and we hope they will ask pertinent questions they'd like answered," Campbell said.

'67 grads to gather

There will be a 10-year reunion for the Romulus High School class of 1967 on Nov. 12 at Leright's Banquet Hall, 826 South Wayne Road, Westland.

Those 1967 RHS grads interested in attending are urged to contact Susan (Wahrman) Cichowski (941-6921) or Kathy Stears (699-2121) as soon as possible.

IN BRIEF

CB World

CB licensing doomed?

The Federal Communications Commission (FCC) and the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) of the White House are running into a problem that could put a damper on our present licensing system.

The FCC is trying to convince Congress that they need to keep turning out CB licenses at their present rate right now, but unfortunately OMB feels differently.

Funding doesn't pose as much of a problem as does the manpower. The people working at getting the licensing done are considered as "temporary" right now. Unless these people are put on as "permanent" staff there won't be anyone to process the license applications.

The FCC feels that there isn't a much better way to handle licensing other than the present operation, but OMB feels there should be no licensing procedure at all.

No matter what decision is made, the speed of processing these applications will take its toll.

Hey, Washington, let's get our act together. If we don't have licensing and some tighter controls over the CB radio we might as well hand it up and consider the radio as a toy.

400 CHANNELS UNDER STUDY!

How does this sound? A 400-channel CB radio with 100 watts of power, and it's legal. How would it feel to have a range of 100 miles by using a repeater? The FCC thinks that this could be a possibility in the future. It's under study right now in Washington by P.U.R.A.C. (Personal Use Radio Advisory Committee). The service would be either in the 222-224, 894-902 or 928-947 MHz bands, consisting of anywhere from 30 to 40 channels.

Provisions would be made for AM sideband or FM modulation, resulting with anywhere from 1 to 100 watts of power from mobile or base operation. There also has been a motion set aside to reserve 20 channels as repeaters.

It's a long way off in the future so don't panic. Your set, whether it's a 23 or 40-channel unit isn't obsolete. This is just a study being done to find out if there is any kind of action that can be taken to improve CB radio.

Recently, there were some sniping incidents along I-94 expressway. The targets being 18-wheelers. I witnessed the first sniping take place over the CB radio the night it happened. Although I didn't actually see it happen I heard it, and it definitely wasn't pretty.

Channel 19 was fairly quiet that evening when all of a sudden a loud voice was heard breaking for a smokey. The trucker was quite shook up as he was yelling he was being shot at. A quick response was made to help the trucker out by the Tiger Shark base. A call was put in to the Wayne County Sheriff Patrol, and within a few minutes not only the streets were covered by "smokeys" but so was the sky. I watched as the police helicopter circled in the air with its bright spotlight, shining throughout the evening in hopes of finding the mysterious sniper.

The next day there were more reports of snipings on 18-wheelers in various areas. A smokey blackout was put into effect, as it was thought that the person doing the shooting might have ears.

Many local bases were on the air giving out information and asking that all smokey reports be kept quiet. The cooperation from the mobiles along with the bases were a welcomed pleasure.

To the lady who operates the Cherokee base, may I say "great job, gal".

56 to show 'Rigoletto'

Channel 56 will broadcast the first of this season's three live telecasts from the stage of New York's Metropolitan Opera house on Nov. 7 at 8 p.m.

The opera is "Rigoletto," part of public TV's "Live from the Met" series, hosted by Tony Randall and underwritten by Texaco and the National Endowment for the Arts.

The Met's new production of Verdi's classic opera stars an international cast headed by Ileana Cotrubus as Gilda, Florence Quivaa as Maddalena, Cornell MacNeil in the title role, Placido Domingo as the Duke, Justino Diaz as Sparafucile and John Cheek as Monterone. James Levine, the Met's music director, will conduct.

Other "Live from the Met" productions from the Met's 1977-78 season will be "Don Giovanni" and the double bill of "Cavalleria Rusticana" and "Pagliacci".

Hospitals to offer free diabetes test

Free testing for diabetes will be available at 141 hospitals and laboratories throughout Michigan during Diabetes Detection Week, Nov. 6-12. The testing is offered as a service of the American Diabetes Association, Michigan Affiliate (ADA-M) and cooperating hospitals.

Diabetes is the third leading cause of death in the United States. It is the leading cause of new blindness and a major cause of heart attack and kidney failure.

Persons who run a high risk of developing diabetes are those over 40 years old, overweight, the relatives of diabetics, or the mothers of children weighing 9 lbs. or more at birth.

According to Nancy Caputo, M.D., anyone at any age can become a diabetic. It is estimated that Michigan alone has nearly half a million diabetics.

The more common symptoms of diabetes are excessive thirst, frequent urination, constant hunger, loss of weight, itching, tiring easily, blurring vision and slow healing of cuts and scratches. The disease, however, can be present without symptoms.

Since early detection and treatment can, in the diabetic, prevent serious complications, everyone is encouraged to take advantage of the free blood test. The test takes only a few minutes and will be done by a professional laboratory technician.

Detection testing is limited to those over 18 years old who have not previously been diagnosed as having diabetes. To assure an accurate test, a big meal which is heavy in starches and sugars should be eaten approximately two hours before.

A good breakfast to have before the test, for example would be fruit or juice, cereal with milk and sugar, buttered toast with jam and coffee or tea. If you are planning to take the test after lunch, you should have a bowl of soup, a sandwich, cake or pie for dessert and a glass of milk. The meal should be eaten within a 15-minute time period and nothing else except water should be drunk or eaten before the test.

Local hospitals participating in the free testing will be:

- Wayne County General Hospital, Westland, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 7-10;
- Heritage Hospital, 24775 Haig Avenue, Taylor, 9 to 11 a.m. Nov. 7, 7 to 9 p.m. Nov. 8 and 10, 1 to 3 p.m. Nov. 9 and 11 a.m. Nov. 11;
- Annapolis Hospital laboratory, 33155 Annapolis Avenue, Wayne, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. Nov. 7-11;
- Garden City Osteopathic Hospital, 6245 N. Inkster Road, Garden City, 1 to 3 p.m. Nov. 7-11; and
- Plymouth Doctors Clinic, 1311 Ann Arbor Road, Plymouth, 2 to 8 p.m. Nov. 7 and 2 to 6 p.m. Nov. 8-11.

Altar Society hosts bazaar

The Altar Society of St. Patrick's Church will be sponsoring a Holiday Boutique from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Nov. 10.

Pre-planning and CHOOSING YOUR CEMETERY LOT
We plan our futures with such care. Yet our futures must include a final resting place — and that frequently receives little or no planning. Sparing the bereaved this emotional detail and the anxieties with which it is associated, this is a wise thing you can do ahead of time.

Harold Rediske

Presented here, then, are several questions often asked about the early selection of a cemetery lot. You might well ask them of yourself:
A. Which cemetery and location of plot?
B. How many spaces and what's the cost?
C. If we move away from here, will the cemetery buy the lots back?
D. Can I sell my lots to someone else?
E. Is the cemetery properly funded for Perpetual Care?

Some of these questions can't be answered without some action on your part. You should investigate and discuss them with representatives of cemeteries under consideration. If you have specific questions, feel free to call on us. We'll try to help you find the answers.

An editorial opinion

Let's take the 'trick' out of Halloween

Meet and Treat. That is the cry that the Michigan Confectioners Association (MCA), would like to see replace the annual threat of 'Trick or Treat'.

The confectioners, representing the thousands of producers of the sweets that lure our children to the streets each Halloween, apparently feel that the concept of Halloween has been lost to the rampaging destruction of hurled eggs, smashed pumpkins, and spray painted houses and autos.

Apparently reacting also to the growing national trend away from the traditional Halloween celebration of sending the kids out on the streets, the confectioners fear the loss of thousands in Halloween related candy revenue.

According to MCA, the growing trend toward destruction is unnecessary, and an affront to the thousands who would choose to enjoy the holiday free from the wanton acts of the few. We agree with MCA.

For too long now, parents have stood back while their children have unleashed their barrage of eggs and other litter on the households of their neighbors. They have done so in the apparent belief that the kids were just having good clean fun. We say Rubbish.

We say that it is long past time for the parents of our community's children to accept, as their responsibility, the actions of their children. It is time for parents to put and end to the destruction of the Halloween celebration.

We suggest that those parents who choose to look the other way when their kids sneak out on devil's night, had best re-evaluate their thinking and act now to correct the growing national movement away from the traditional Halloween celebration.

The MCA has suggested that their 'Meet and Treat' slogan, replacing the traditional 'Trick or Treat', would go a long way toward changing the image of Halloween. By taking the trick out of Halloween, and emphasizing the positive, a family-oriented fun filled Halloween is possible. We again agree with MCA.

It is ironic that the confectioners would have to be the ones to take up the cry of returning to a sane and safe Halloween holiday. It is ironic that a profit motive is necessary to finally get the attention of the citizens of this area. But that is apparently the case.

We doubt there is a parent anywhere that has not now had just about enough of the Halloween related destruction.

For that reason we urge the adoption of the 'Meet and Treat' greeting for Halloween night.

'Meet and Treat' is endorsed by police chiefs, mayors, governors, and newspapers across this country.

We feel that anyone that is interested in helping to preserve the Halloween tradition, should also support 'Meet and Treat'.

'Meet and Treat' takes the trick out of Halloween. It may just put the fun back in.

Editor's Log

Legislative 'sleep' compromises Democracy

By DENNIS FASSETT
Managing Editor

I recently had the good fortune, or misfortune, whichever way you might look at it, to moderate a Meet the Candidates night in Westland.

I have in the past been called upon to provide the same service for other candidate nights in other cities that Associated Newspapers serve, and have usually left the meetings a little more knowledgeable than when I arrived.

In the Westland meet, I again learned something new, but this time it was of a negative nature.

During the questioning period of the candidates night, a member of the audience asked about the council's procedure of allowing citizens in the audience only 30 minutes to ask questions of their City Council, and concluded by asking the question, 'When will the government be returned to the people?'

This question was of particular interest to me; for some years now I have felt, that any City Council or Township Board that would limit the right of the citizens to be heard, could never claim to be serving those who elected them to their office.

I offered the question to any candidate who chose to reply, and there were few that cared to respond, but one candidate's answer provides new insight into the roles that our elected officials see themselves in.

The candidate replied that even though Westland did indeed limit citizen participation at council meetings to only 30 minutes, the Westland City Council had never refused questions from the audience. In fact the council had always ALLOWED citizens to speak on any item on the council agenda.

I felt that response was probably representative of the view of the other candidates as well, not only in Westland, but in most other communities that have limited the amount of time that citizens have for involving themselves in their government.

If the truth be known, it is only because of the length of council meetings that the citizens have been allocated only 30 minutes for their community involvement.

Since our elected city council is composed of men and women who are relatively normal in regard to the amount of sleep they require each night, and since their elective jobs are only part-time, requiring them to hold down full-time jobs during the week, it is understandable that they would prefer getting to bed at a reasonable hour.

It is understandable that our city fathers would like to keep their council meetings short, but shortening their meetings at the expense of the citizens is the wrong solution for THEIR problem. And it is their problem not the problem of those who have elected them to serve.

The right of a citizen to participate in his government seems to be so basic to a Democratic society that finding anyone in opposition to that principle would surely be difficult. But is it?

If Democracy is compromised just because those people who have sought, and won, elective office feel that the job is too demanding we are certainly in trouble.

If Democracy is compromised just to satisfy the comfort requirements of elected officials, we are definitely in trouble.

I suggest that our elected leaders 'hit' their history books and find out what their responsibility really is.

It was not the citizens who asked those candidates for office to run; they have asked the citizens if they might. It is the elected official who must make the sacrifice to serve. The citizen need not sacrifice to be served.

For any elected official to feel that he is ALLOWING a citizen to exercise his right to participate in his government is an indication that some of our leaders have lost touch with their true responsibility.

This election year, we should remind them!

Bald Eagle Speaks

Following in Britian's footsteps

By BOB AMEEN

Strikes, strikes, strikes!

It seems that everyone and his brother are either striking these days or thinking about it. Not only in the United States, but abroad, called and uncalled strikes are becoming a part of the contemporary scene.

This 20th century phenomenon is taking its toll — lost productivity that can never be regained, small businesses being forced to close their doors and bitter feelings between union and company management bordering on bloodshed.

It would seem that the day is fast approaching when steps will have to be taken by our nation's leaders to curb the ever-growing strength and militancy of labor unions that daily flex their muscles, oftentimes in contempt of our laws.

A few short generations ago, no one would have thought that school teachers, nurses, even highly-respected doctors, would be out on the picket lines protesting grievances to their employers.

Not disregarding the great gains won by labor unions for their members, or that possibly unions were the only way to go for overworked employees with little security or benefits, the day of reckoning is close at hand for showdown confrontation between these new giants and our nation's government.

Every year sees more and more union demands, not only upon employers, but upon heretofore untouched areas such as endorsement of such national issues as the proposed Panama Canal Treaty. Should this be the concern of our country's labor unions? By what right do they feel that they should speak out on this topic?

Coupled with this burgeoning increase in labor union strength is the growing bureaucracy in Washington, D. C. The billions of dollars required to feed this ever-hungry and ever-growing force of government workers defies the imagination.

Every new president promises to cut down on government departments, agencies, commissions, etc., but each and every year sees the ranks of government workers growing steadily to new heights.

Current newspaper and magazine stories detail how the rise of bureaucracy in other nations had signalled and is signalling their slow but persistent decline into obscurity. No better example can be found than Great Britain. Once the ruler of the world's oceans and the mightiest power on earth, Great Britain today is tottering on the brink of economic and moral collapse.

It is said that so much attention and money is being paid to caring for and worrying about the have-nots in their society that the larger number of haves are fast losing initiative and ambition. The result is that the needy and those who are making it are being blended into one big blob of slobs who don't care about anything but themselves.

Without the fortitude, drive and spirit of the kind displayed by Great Britain's past great government leaders and "keep-a-stiff-upper lip" military empire builders, that nation seems doomed to eventual oblivion.

Noted thinkers of the day report that our nation is well on the same road to oblivion, in fact is following in Great Britain's footsteps as if guided by a blueprint!

If our country is to regain its place in the sun as regards the rest of the world, a world of impending volcanic dimensions in Africa, the Middle East, South America, Korea and elsewhere, then we must embark upon a return to the fundamentals which transformed this nation from a wilderness into the mightiest and most civilized fortress of refuge for free peoples in the world.

Before it is too late, our nation's leaders should begin worrying about these matters and the future rather than how many more people can be put on welfare, studies on the sex life of the mosquito, and union strikes for grievances ranging from an allegedly unjustified dismissal of a fellow employee to a refusal to meet wage demands that might just put a company out of business.

Our nation's citizens should return to that old-fashioned habit of learning to care for themselves, instead of worrying about Uncle Sam, providing everything needed for existence, from diapers to food stamps to no-fault divorce to national health insurance.

We need unions. That is a necessary fact of life. But, more importantly, we need our country!

Health Beat

Bureaucratic procedures strain 'Mental health'

By RUSS TUTTLE
Director, Community Relations
Peoples Community Hospital Authority

I recently went through an exercise with the entrenched bureaucracy which was as bizzare as anything I've ever experienced during my 40-odd years on the face of this Earth.

By the time I had finished my battle, the state of my mental health was approximately 3 degrees below the zero reference line.

Let me set the scene.

About 18 months ago, my son, who at the time was age 20, had saved enough money to make a substantial down payment on what was to be his first car.

Because son Dan had never been exposed to the machinations of automobile purchasing, I volunteered to guide him through the labyrinth we have all come to accept as the norm when we enter — as sheep to be shorn — the car dealer's show room.

At our third stop in this labored journey, he saw the object of his dreams. A bright yellow Pontiac Firebird equipped with all the tinsel necessary to satisfy any young man's fantasies.

A price was established, Dan's down payment was offered, and the terms for the balance were specified. I told the salesman that I'd co-sign the loan papers if that would make things easier. After all, my wife Donna and I, through 25 years of marriage, have lived in three states (Colorado, Illinois, and Michigan).

In each of these stop-overs, I assure you that we've had the 'opportunity' to establish good credit. The local banks know me, and gladly accepted my signature as co-signer.

Thus we closed the deal. Dan had his car. He also had loan papers with both his and my name on them, and a title and registration which also carried both of our names as co-owners and co-debtors.

Just recently Dan married. His wife, Gail, already owned a car. The question arose, why should they have two cars, especially one with a mortgage attached to its power steering.

Being the financial genius that am I, I suggested that I'd give them some cash for the equity and assume the payments and the car. They immediately saw the wisdom of my suggestion, and the deal was made.

As soon as I took the car, I headed for my insurance company to get coverage — coverage which would exclude any driver(s) under age 25 (much cheaper, you know). Before the insurance company would issue the policy, I, of course, had to get Dan's name off of the title and registration.

A simple task, I thought. I'll just zip over to the Secretary of State office during my lunch hour. Seeing as Dan had already signed over the title to me, I figured that it would be a mundane request to tell the computer to erase one name from the papers.

Not so simple I was soon to learn. The lady who waited on me at Secretary of State said that before any command could be given to erase a name, the bank must give its approval. My eyes watered. Just what in hell concern is it of the bank, I mused, if one of two names is removed from the papers. Didn't the bank still have me as a co-signer? I recognized that the polite lady was only doing her job within the system, and thus I headed for the bank.

At the bank I was again treated very well. The lady in charge of erasing names via a letter asked if I'd like to have Dan's name taken from the loan papers as well as from the title and registration.

Why not, I thought. Let's make a clean break. She smiled and said, "Fine. Let's fill out these forms and I'll arrange to have the remainder of the loan re-financed. I gagged.

"No," I said with a voice which was fast approaching high C, "let's just leave Dan's name on the loan even though it will not appear on the car papers." That seemed to make sense to the bank, and the kind lady gave me a letter to take back to the Secretary of State.

With my letter in hand — I felt like I had a note from my mother telling my 8th grade teacher that it was all right for me to go to the circus — I headed back to the Secretary of State office to conclude this exercise in planned frustration and absurdity.

I smiled and handed the letter to the lady in charge. She smiled and handed me a form to fill out. The information I had to hand print on this form was precisely the same information as already existed on the original form, except this time I was to leave Dan's name off the new form.

I complied with the system, and filled in the bloody form. But, I can't help but wonder why everything which ought to be so simple is complicated by a bureaucracy.

The yellow Firebird is now mine. No more driving helter-skelter around town filling out forms, picking up letters, or making telephone calls.

I guess we have no choice but to live within the system. However, I think I know now why the mental health service recently opened at the PCHA Heritage Hospital has been full since the first day.

The system, I fear, drove people there!

From the State House

Tanker bill top priority for Legislature

The legislature went directly into a heavy work schedule as it started the fall session, the house dealing quickly with such issues as tank trucks, mail order sales, job openings, fork-extended motorcycles and the whitetailed deer.

The Tanker Bill was listed as a priority item for the fall session because of public concern over a series of accidents, fires, deaths and injuries involved "double bottom" tankers carrying flammable substances.

The bill tightens safety regulations for the tankers. It requires the certification by the State Fire Marshal of every firm and every vehicle which is engaged in the transport of hazardous materials, which includes flammable liquids and gases, explosives and poisonous substances. A firm could not be established nor a vehicle operated without such certification.

A certificate could not be issued until it was shown that there was full compliance with fire safety rules.

Each certified vehicle would have to bear an identification number indicating the type of hazardous material being hauled.

Firms located or operating in Michigan could not establish an aboveground storage for liquified gas larger than 2,000 gallons individual capacity or 4,000 total capacity or an above-ground storage for flammable liquid larger than 10,000 gallons without a certificate from the fire marshal.

The bill, which has been sent to the Senate, calls for annual inspection of vehicles and storage facilities. The fire marshal would have the authority to order a firm to stop operations or prohibit the use of a tanker until the firm or vehicle as brought into compliance with safety regulations.

The bill makes a number of other changes in the Fire Prevention Act. It would expand the requirement that schools conduct fire drills once a month to include all colleges and universities, and require places of public assembly to be fire inspected at least once a year.

The inspection would be carried out by the fire marshal or by a certified local fire inspector. A place of public assembly could not be operated without obtaining a certificate indicating its maximum capacity and that it is in compliance with fire safety regulations.

Hopefully, these requirements will help to prevent the type of fire that caused so many deaths earlier this year at the Beverly Hills Night Club near Cincinnati.

Also approved was a senate bill which would require that outstate mail order houses that advertise and sell in Michigan conform to Michigan retail installment sales law.

The fact that many catalog companies are located out-to-state results in some confusion over the site of the contract. Is it where the seller or the buyer is located? This determination is important because it will in turn determine what rate of interest is charged on the retail sales installment agreement.

This confusion has resulted in instances in which Michigan consumers a rate of interest higher than is allowable under state law.

The bill would eliminate this confusion by specifying that if the seller offers to sell to a Michigan resident, then the site of the contract is in Michigan and only the allowable rate of interest in Michigan (1.7 per cent per month) could be charged on any installment sales agreement.

Approved and sent to the senate was a bill which would require employers to report to the Michigan Employment Security Commission all jobs not filled within five days. This would not include firms with 10 or less employees and employers of seasonal farm labor, or to jobs normally filled by promotion or recall, jobs covered by employer-union hiring arrangements, or casual or temporary employment.

The requirement would facilitate job referrals and placements by the MESCC, thus helping to find jobs for the unemployed in the state, and would enable the commission to more accurately determine the conditions of the labor market.

Another bill sent to the senate would ban motorcycles with drastically modified front end suspensions or steering system, such as motorcycles with slug or screw-in type fork extensions, those with front fork legs that are not parallel with the fork system, and vehicles with forks greater than 45 inches in length.

Safety experts agree that these type of modifications reduce the effectiveness of suspension and steering gear to the point where motorcycles are dangerous to the drivers and to other vehicles on the road.

The bill would not affect motorcycles operated on private property or non-public roads.

Michigan does not have an official state animal, although there are those who have considered the wolverine the unofficial state animal. This is despite the fact that the wolverine is not and may not ever have been a native of Michigan.

The house has voted to make the white-tailed deer the official animal of the State of Michigan. The proposal is under senate consideration.

There are considerable arguments for the white-tailed deer. It attracts about 700,000 hunters a year, contributes to the economy, is abundant in the state, helps to boost the tourist industry, and is a positive image of the outdoors and clean and beautiful environment.

On the Brighter Side

From the old Sports Editor's notebook

By JIM BRADLEY
ANP Staff Writer

One of the most pleasant things in life is fond memories.

As we grow older, we can relive the thrills and joys of former years by traveling down memory lane.

And many times it's the situation and environment we are in that "triggers" our thoughts and sends them fleeing back in time to former experiences.

That's what happened Friday night when Tom Mooradian and I journeyed over to Westland John Glenn High School to watch the Fighting Rockets play Livonia Franklin in a football game that could have given the Rockets another undisputed Northwest Suburban League title.

I watched the game with mixed emotions.

First, Associated Newspapers' Westland Eagle is the hometown paper of the John Glenn team and I know many of the coaches and teachers there. So, our loyalty is understandable.

But I'm also a close friend of the three Patriot grid coaches, Armand Vigna, George Lovich and Jerry Cullin.

Let's go back to the fall of 1975. I'd been asked to be Sports Editor of the Observer-Eccentric newspapers, which is based in Livonia, and Franklin was one of the football teams I covered.

During the course of following the Patriots' powerful pigskin crew that year, I got to know Vigna, Lovich and Cullin very well. You see, 1975 was the first year that Michigan held a high school championship football game — and guess who turned out to be State Champs? Livonia Franklin, and Armand Vigna, George Lovich and Jerry Cullin.

And guess who had the thrill of being at every Franklin game down the stretch to the state title? Me.

I covered them all the way.

Franklin knew it was powerful on defense — but Vigna, in his rookie year as head coach of the Patriots, had to decide between three untested players to be his quarterback.

He chose junior Dave Wilson, with Dennis Smith as his back-up man.

After losing a non-league game to cross-town rival, Stevenson, by a close score, Franklin was to take the Cinderella route to the state title. They wouldn't lose another game in 1975, although it seemed every game was close.

The defense held the opponents to a very low score each game while the offense mustered just enough points to win.

These thoughts flooded my mind as Tom Mooradian and I paced back and forth on the sidelines during the game between Glenn and Franklin Friday night. Looking out at the huge white-shirted Franklin players in their familiar red helmets, my mind went back again to 1975. It was a very good year!

I remember the coach of Detroit Southwestern, Joe Hoskins, being asked how he felt about playing Livonia Franklin in the state semi-final play-offs. Hoskins responded something to the effect he didn't even know where Franklin was.

I humorously wrote LIVONIA WHO? in the headlines that week. Well, Southwestern found out where Livonia Franklin was when the Patriots defeated the Detroiters at Wisner Stadium in Pontiac.

Tom Mooradian and I sat side by side watching the action — him covering the game for the Associated Newspapers while I covered it for the Observer. My memory fades a little here, but I think the final score was something like 12-9.

Then it was on to Waldo Stadium at Western Michigan University in Kalamazoo on Nov. 22 when the Patriots played Alpena for the state Class A football title. Alpena was a powerhouse and a high-scoring aggregation — that is, until they met the "Jolly Giants of Joy Road", as I called them. Halfback Jim Casey and fullback Tim Hollandsworth, aided by the entire Franklin team, galloped in, over and around Alpena for a convincing 21-7 triumph.

As I sat in the pressbox at WMU, I felt sorry for Franklin's opponents and how the coaching triumvirate of Vigna, Cullin and Lovich continually masterminded their defeats.

So it was Friday night as I thought that Glenn, with an offense and defense, should beat Franklin, who this year seemed only to again have good defense.

Well, Franklin's defense stopped Glenn's attack and the offense broke a long run to take a 7-0 early first period lead. The Patriots' defense continued to thwart the Rockets all night long in rolling to a 17-0 lead and finally winning, 17-7.

After the game, I strolled over to the Franklin sidelines. The players, dirty, tired and sweaty, had gone to the bus while three men still stood by the bench hugging each other and patting each other on the back.

Vigna, Lovich and Cullin were whooping it up in victory. They turned to see the lone visitor approach — a visitor they hadn't seen in almost two years on the football field.

"Hi Jim! When are you coming back to Livonia and give us the kind of football coverage on our local sports pages we deserve?"

We reminisced for a few minutes about 1975 and I couldn't answer their question. But I know one thing for sure.

I'll never again vote against the trio of Vigna, Lovich and Cullin when it comes to coaching the game of football and winning the "big one".

I should have learned that lesson back in 1975.

Reflections

You may think I'm crazy, but-----

By JOYCE HAGELTHORN

"You can write this if you promise faithfully you will never ever reveal who I am," the pretty young looking woman said as she came into the room. "I want to tell you, but I would just die if any of my friends knew that I really believed what has been happening to me."

She took off her coat, straightened her skirt and sat down in a chair close to mine. I told her I would never reveal who she was and that in the article I would call her Rosemary — which is so far from her real name no one would ever guess.

She agreed it was a good name, and then sat fingering the long chains hanging around her neck.

"In some ways what I have to tell you sounds trivial," she began, "but I can't really figure out what is happening. I never believed in this stuff, you see, so it has been rather hard on me."

Watching the flames in the fire she sat quietly. I waited, and then she finally began.

"My husband died last year and for the first few months it was terrible. I missed him so much and life just didn't seem worth living. And then about six months ago I became aware that when I was home alone at night, I didn't feel like I was alone."

"I felt his presence. Honestly, it was so strong that at times I found myself actually talking to him. I thought maybe I was going out of my mind, but then I read that article about the three phases of grief and decided that what I was experiencing was just a natural, ordinary phase one goes through when one has lost a loved one.

"Then one day I was in a hurry to get to our lawyer's office. I was to take some of my husband's papers with me and I went to his desk and got them all out. I had just put them in my bag when the lawyer called and asked for a specific paper."

"I looked through the ones I had taken from the drawer but it wasn't there. Then I looked through the desk and I couldn't find it."

"Oh darn," I said, "I wish Phil could tell me where he put that thing." And that's when it happened I felt him right beside me, and I heard him say, "The paper is in the book on Kennedy that I was reading."

"I rushed upstairs, and got the book from the bedside table where I had left it after he died...and sure enough, right in the middle was the paper I needed. But that's not all."

"A few days after that I was looking for that kind of screwdriver which has several points. I knew Phil had one, but I couldn't find it. 'Phil,' I said to myself, where did you put it? And again I felt him and heard him. 'Look in the steel box I put in the garage,' he said. I did, and there it was."

"These things have been happening almost every day. I feel that he is living right there with me. Just like always, except I can't see him. But, if he is coming back, why doesn't he tell me what death is all about, and what it's like on the other side? Why is it that everything he says concerns just little everyday things...kind of trivial things?"

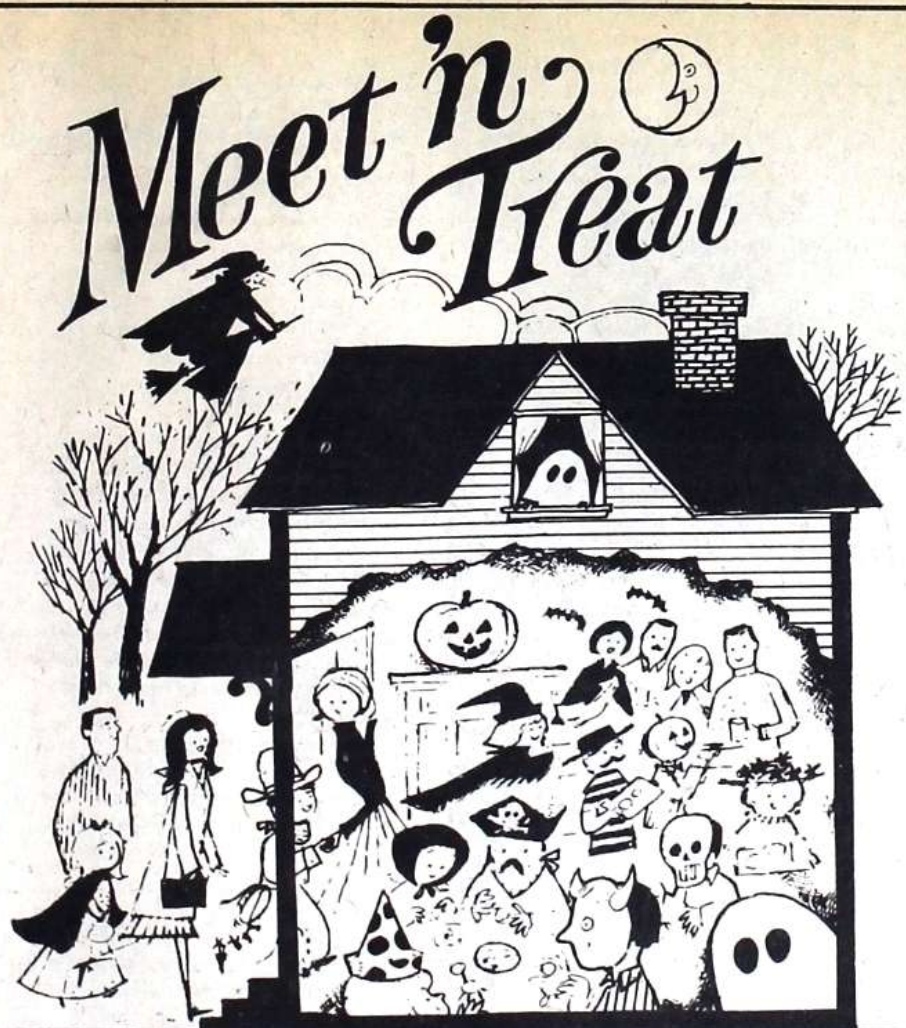

I told Rosemary that was one of the questions people have asked from the beginning of time. And perhaps the answer lies in human nature.

Man probably does not become a different person upon death. He continues as he was. When one lifts the telephone to call a loved one or a friend across the country, at great expense, I might add, what does one usually talk about?

"How is the weather," one almost always asks. "How are you feeling? Have you had dinner?" Trivial things. Nothing very important.

Perhaps that is what happens when one dies and comes back to visit with his loved ones. He is so happy to be there that he doesn't think about talking of the change, nor the magnificent things he has discovered.

He speaks of trivia... and it is that trivia that often identifies the one who has gone, and provides substantial proof that life goes on.

Open forum Students for Millage

Mr. Editor:
I would like to thank the truly concerned citizen who wrote in last weeks Romulus Roman about how everyone should vote "yes" on the millage November 8, and that the students will be the ones who will suffer.

I hope we have many parents who feel the same way about voting "yes" on the millage.

Give the students a opportunity to have what they look forward to through their school years.

Just because you may have had all the subjects, sports, music, etc...in your school years. Let us have ours.

Not all of us want to go to a school just for the biology, algebra, etc... students like activities such as music, art and sports.

There is so much in sports today, don't let your child miss out on the experience of competing against one another and working as a team.

If it wasn't for the sports, music and art, etc... I believe a lot of students wouldn't even be interested in school.

Let the kids have something to look forward to.

Roberts completes cadet basic training

Ricky J. Roberts, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gracie E. Roberts of Middle Belt Road, New Boston, recently completed cadet basic training at the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y.

The training included military courtesy and customs, as well as marksmanship.

A 1977 graduate of Huron High School, Cadet Roberts received a congressional appointment to the academy.

Also in the armed forces:

Edward A. Herr, 17, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Herr of Middle Belt Road, Romulus, has entered the U.S. Air Force's Delayed Enlistment Program (DEP).

According to S. Sgt. Ken Dallaire, the Air Force recruiter in Dearborn, Herr will commence four years active duty on Dec. 19, undergoing six weeks of basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Tex.

The Air Force has guaranteed that Herr, who attended Woodhaven High School, will then receive aerospace ground equipment mechanic training, before being assigned to his first Air Force duty station.

Navy Sonar Technician 3 c. David M. Akans, the son of Mr. and Mrs. David J. Akans of Sheldon Road, and whose wife, Valerie, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth D. McFall of Sumpter Road, all of Belleville, recently departed for an extended deployment in the Mediterranean Sea.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the frigate USS Thomas C. Hart, homeported in Norfolk, Va. While deployed, his ship will operate as a unit of the U.S. Sixth Fleet.

During the cruise, his ship is scheduled to participate in training exercises with other Sixth Fleet units and with ships of allied nations. Additionally, port visits are scheduled in several Mediterranean coastal cities.

A 1976 graduate of Belleville High School, he joined the Navy in June 1976.

Navy Seaman Appren. Kenneth G. Szwarc, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Szwarc of Bruce, Romulus, is currently participating in Exercise "Fortress Lightning" in the Republic of the Philippines.

He is serving as a crewmember aboard the amphibious cargo ship USS St. Louis, homeported in San Diego, Calif.

He is one of more than 14,000 sailors and Marines taking part in the 2-week exercise, which includes 30 ships and Seventh Fleet aircraft, along with elements of the Philippine Navy and Marine Corps. "Fortress Lightning" is designed to provide training in amphibious landing techniques and operations ashore.

A 1974 graduate of Romulus High School, Szwarc joined the Navy in June 1976.

Navy Seaman Recruit Ronald A. Curtis Jr., the son of Ronald A.

Curtis Sr. of Hannan Road, Romulus, has completed recruit training at the Naval Training Center at Great Lakes, Ill.

Included in his studies were seamanship close-order drill, Naval history and first aid. He joined the Navy in July 1977.

Nancy Dickerson, prominent national correspondent, reports for Detroit Edison:

"Playing it safe with energy-efficient outdoor night lighting is a bright thing to do."

It's smart to turn lights off when they don't serve a purpose. But it's a wise use of energy to keep lights on when they provide safety and protection.

It's called security lighting. Now your home, neighborhood group, apartment or condominium can have the safety and protection of security lighting. And your lights can be automatically controlled to turn on only when it's dark so there's no waste of energy or dollars.

Exterior security lighting also helps smart businessmen and owners of industrial buildings cut down losses from nighttime vandalism and break-ins. With the new high-efficiency light sources now available, operating costs are a lot less than you might think.

Here are some tips to make your existing night lighting more effective and energy-efficient: take advantage of all nearby illumination, such as street lighting, and integrate it into your system; keep landscaping trim to create more light areas; remove outdoor storage containers that cast shadows; choose light exterior colors for your home or building to reflect light.

The important thing is to have well-planned, properly-installed security lighting with automatic controls or timers to turn off lights when they aren't needed. You'll save energy and money.

Electric post lanterns, low-level floodlights and high-mounted dual floodlights provide good illumination for front and back lawns and driveways. For larger areas, you can choose efficient, long-lasting, high-intensity lights.

Detroit Edison will help you plan security lighting for your home or business that's energy-efficient and provides the most safety and protection for the least cost. Just call or stop in at any Detroit Edison customer office.

As a concerned participant in America's crusade for conservation, Detroit Edison is working hard to do its part. But it requires a working partnership between those who supply energy and those who use it. So, if you're planning on installing security lighting, make sure your system is energy-efficient. It's one of the ways you can help.

Pick up a free folder on security lighting at any Detroit Edison customer office. Or, for more information, write: Customer Relations, Detroit Edison, 2000 Second, Detroit, Michigan 48226.

Conserve for all it's worth. The power is in your hands.

Action needed to get criminals off streets

Strong action should be taken to get criminals off the streets, but the long-range solution to crime lies in improved education and employment opportunities.

That was the central theme of a report made to state lawmakers last week.

The report summarized the findings of a unique, year-long opinion-gathering project, Criminal Justice Forum, a public service program of National Bank of Detroit in cooperation with Citizens Research Council of Michigan.

The recommendations on what should be done about crime were the consensus of the respondents in the state-wide Criminal Justice Forum, in which more than 200 town hall-type meetings of civic, religious and community groups, schools and companies were tied together by a questionnaire that probed attitudes about how the criminal justice system in Michigan should be changed. More than 20,000 persons attended the forum meetings. Questionnaire responses were analyzed by age, sex, education, area of residence and by whether or not the respondent or a family member had ever been a victim of a violent crime.

Robert E. Pickup, executive director of Citizens Research

Council, told the legislative leaders, Appropriations and Judiciary committee members and aides from both houses that the highest agreement among the various demographic divisions of the group responding was found in questions addressed to getting criminals off the streets.

From 82 to 94 percent favored consecutive sentences for criminals convicted of multiple offenses, mandatory minimum sentences for certain crimes and the jailing and denial of bail for those arrested while on bail on previous charges. Approximately three-quarters of all respondents, including 60 percent of those under 18 years of age, felt that juveniles who commit serious crimes should be tried as adults.

On a corollary question—whether they would be willing to pay increased taxes for police—an average of 71 percent responded affirmatively, although only 57 percent said they would vote for increased taxes for prisons and just 46 percent would pay increased taxes for judges.

The next highest area of general agreement dealt with long-range solutions. More than 60 percent of all groups agreed that the crime problem would not be solved until more jobs were provided and education improved.

Strongest agreement (80 percent) came from predominantly black areas of Detroit, and the least agreement—but still more than 60 percent came from middle-aged white males.

On the corollary tax questions, 64 percent of the respondents said they would vote for tax increases for employment opportunities, and 71 percent said they would pay higher taxes for education.

Of government going broke

CPAs list 'danger signs'

What danger signals does a municipal government send out when it's on the brink of going bankrupt?

The Michigan Association of Certified Public Accountants, whose members are financial advisors to governments, as well as to businesses and individuals, has drafted a list of questions the answers to which might indicate the financial health of a government.

According to the Michigan CPAs, studies by accounting firms and universities, as well as a recent set of guidelines issued by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, all indicate there has to be an organized, rational way of recording and reporting transactions. Regular audits, it is agreed, are essential, providing warning signals should the situation threaten to get out of hand.

Like businesses, the accountants say, governments must plan ahead. There are pressing public demands for increased services, which, with spiraling inflationary costs, become ever more difficult to provide. Priorities have to be weighed, and funds assigned to the programs likely to produce the greatest cost-benefits.

Worker productivity, long a major concern of private industry, should be of at least equal concern to municipal governments.

— Would it go to the heart of the problem, or just offer cosmetic improvement?

— Is it the only corrective measure available or would something simpler work almost as well for a lot less money? "There is a great deal of interchangeability of good financial practice," a CPA spokesman said, "among governments, businesses and individuals. One entity can and should benefit from the experience of the others."

Guidelines that have been established for CPAs undertaking audits of the economy, efficiency and results of government programs suggest that the auditors:

— Pin down a program's objectives, reducing to writing exactly what the project is supposed to achieve.

— After identifying the goals, find ways of measuring success realized in accomplishing them.

— Balance the results with the cost of the program to determine cost-effectiveness.

When offering suggestions for ways to improve a government program, CPAs are reminded to ask:

— Would the correction be economical, or would it cost more than the deficiency it is intended to correct?

State returns to standard time

Michigan motorists are reminded that nightfall — the most dangerous period of the day for car-pedestrian accidents, especially those involving youngsters — comes an hour earlier after the switch to Eastern Standard Time at 2 a.m. Sunday.

"There were 19 5- to 9-year-old pedestrians killed by cars between 3 and 7 p.m. last year, and nine of those victims died between 5 and 7 p.m., when many motorists are returning from work in darkness," said Arthur

C. Gibson, Auto Club Safety and Traffic Engineering manager. Motorists should adjust their driving in this period by:

— Reducing speed while increasing distance between cars.

— Watching for signs of children at play, including bicycles and dogs.

— Keeping windshields, headlights and tail lights clean and in proper working order to insure optimum visibility.

Parents of school-age children can increase their visibility by dressing them in brightly colored clothing.

2,200 miles of trails await snowmobilers

A network of trails, covering more than 2,200 miles—the distance between Detroit and Bakersfield, Calif.—awaits Michigan's steadily growing snowmobiling legion this winter, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

"Michigan's extensive snowmobile trail system ranks third in the nation behind Minnesota and Wisconsin," said Joseph Ratke, Auto Club touring manager.

This year Michigan has added 143 miles of trails to keep up with the growing popularity of snowmobiling. There now are nearly 450,000 snowmobilers in the state, and that figure is growing at a rate of nearly 3 percent a year.

Auto Club's 1977-78 snowmobile guide lists 164 marked and groomed trails. Some are as short as six miles and traverse rolling woods and fields less than an hour's drive from major cities. Others are more suited to safaris, covering as much as 80 miles of snow-shrouded forestland.

In addition to the trails listed by the Auto Club, snowmobilers can travel over more than 3.7 million acres of state forest, 100,000 acres of miles of state parks and game and recreation areas, plus thousands of miles of right-of-ways along roads in 35 counties.

For the second year, special regulations for the state's four national forests apply, Ratke noted.

Snowmobilers using the 1.1 million acres in the Lower Peninsula's Huron and Manistee National forests are restricted to designated trails or any unplowed road not posted as closed.

Cross-country snowmobile travel will be allowed in the western Upper Peninsula's 1.6 million-acre Ottawa National Forest until March 1 when all machines on federal land south of M-28, except for a portion in the extreme western U.P., will be restricted to designated trails or unplowed roads.

Snowmobilers in the U.P.'s 1.2 million-acre Hiawatha National Forest must stay on trails or unplowed, but groomed, national forest roads.

Ratke noted that snowmobilers must be registered to operate everywhere except on public land. Youngsters, aged 12 to 15 years, are required to pass an 8-hour state-approved

Within seven calendar days after the written mortgage commitment has been issued, the lender must mail or deliver an advance disclosure statement to the borrower, and to any others involved in the financing end of the purchase. The first two pages of the statement form summarize estimated settlement expenses, and inform the buyer of the estimated amount of cash that will be due from him prior to closing. The financial-legal end of any home or business transaction can be complicated. Here is another way in which we can be of help to you.

The competent real estate broker in the Belleville area to call upon is CENTURY 21 COMMUNITY REALTORS, 10675 Belleville Road. Prompt, courteous service is always guaranteed when you put your confidence and trust in the expert sales staff that awaits you at CENTURY 21. We're open 7 days a week - from 9 to 9. Phone 697-2121.

State Police on freeways could cut accidents

Establishment of a Highway Patrol as a separate division of the Michigan State Police is a priority for reducing traffic accidents and deaths, Automobile Club of Michigan General Manager James Moffat said.

Auto Club also noted in a just-completed study entitled, "Portrait of Enforcement," that creation of a Freeway Patrol would free other police agencies for traffic enforcement on local roads, which account for 67 percent of all accidents, but only 48 percent of the statewide travel.

Auto Club stated that despite manpower shortages and other problems, sheriff and local police departments could reduce accidents dramatically by employing selective law enforcement programs (SLEP). Under SLEP, enforcement personnel are assigned to specific locations at times when most traffic law violations occur.

Auto Club's recommendations were based on results of a comparative analysis by Wayne State University's Civil Engineering Department of statewide accident rates and the effectiveness of enforcement in Michigan, Ohio and Pennsylvania.

In recommending a Highway Patrol, Auto Club cited the diminishing role of State Police on freeways as a major reason for Michigan's poor accident and enforcement comparison with Ohio, where there is a Highway Patrol responsible only for traffic enforcement. Auto Club pointed out that between 1969 and 1976, Michigan freeways grew 20 percent, but freeway patrol car hours increased only 8 percent.

The study also declared: "The role of the State Police on freeways in Michigan is becoming as important to the motorist for personal security as it is for traffic law enforcement."

Because of this, Auto Club proposed that the Freeway Patrol operate on all 1,662 miles of limited access roads in Michigan 24 hours daily. This would require 850 additional officers and 90 vehicles at a cost of nearly $20 million annually, excluding administrative expenses, Auto Club said.

Auto Club said it would not oppose financing the Highway Patrol with funds from the state gasoline tax.

"The accident experience in Michigan is depressing when compared with the combined statewide experience in Ohio and Pennsylvania," the study stated.

Accident tables comparing Michigan freeways, trunklines (all highways below freeway standards) and local roads with those in Ohio and Pennsylvania had a total of 24 categories. Michigan was inferior to comparison states in 15 categories, the same in three and better in only six categories.

The general conclusions about Michigan's accident record drawn from those tables are:

- Michigan's local roads rated below comparison states in seven of eight categories.
- Michigan's freeways rated below comparison states in six of eight categories.
- Michigan's trunklines rated below comparison states in two of eight categories.

Auto Club stated that sheriff departments and city police face the biggest task in reducing traffic accidents, which last year claimed 1,955 lives, injured 162,894 persons and resulted in an $821-million economic loss. The study emphasized that selective enforcement programs in problem areas constitute the most practical and affordable approach to the problem.

The study stated in the conclusion: "Sheriff deputies are needed to patrol and increase the level of enforcement on local roads in unincorporated areas, a move that would be welcomed by local residents and would have the biggest impact on reducing statewide traffic accidents and deaths."

Auto Club recommended that sheriff's departments develop enforcement standards for state trunklines and county roads. The study also calls for increasing sheriff's departments whenever necessary so that adequate manpower can be deployed.

Auto Club added that, "...most city police departments in the state could reduce traffic accidents greatly by concentrating enforcement efforts on problem areas."

"Selective law enforcement does not always require increasing manpower. Many law enforcement agencies across Michigan could operate selective law enforcement programs by more efficient use of existing personnel."

The study cited Flint's 3-year SLEP program as an example of how selective enforcement not only reduces the number of traffic accidents, but also their severity.

Fatal accidents were down 38 percent and injury accidents dropped 18 percent during the three-year program compared with the 3-year period before it began.

EDITOR'S NOTE: It's a Date is open to all local non-profit organizations free of charge. Information for the column should be submitted by phone or mail by the Thursday before the issue in which it is to appear. Call Suburban Living Editor, Lee Smith, at 697-9191 or mail information to 116 Fourth St., Belleville, 48111. Items must be received by 2 p.m. on Thursday and will be repeated until outdated.)

At Girlstown open house

Federated Club women from throughout the state arrived in Belleville Oct. 18 for the Harvest Day (formerly the ingathering) at Girlstown. Among those attending the afternoon open house were two members of the Women's Study Club of Belleville: Pat Baughman (from left)

Girlstown committee chairman; Avis White, club president; and Marie Eidt, Girlstown chairman of the Dearborn Junior Club, which took on the hostess detail for the occasion.

MSFWC Harvest Day held at Girlstown

The "Harvest Day" (formerly known as the ingathering) at Girlstown of Belleville was held Oct. 18 from 1 to 3 p.m. with Tom McIndoe, director of the establishment, as host.

Girlstown, a major project of the Michigan State Federation of Women's Clubs, (MSFWC), is under the supervision of selected representatives from the board of directors and trustees. Licensed as a child care agency by the Michigan Department of Social Services, it is a professional care home of orderly atmosphere for emotionally disturbed girls aged 12 to 16 years of age.

The Dearborn Junior Club, Suburban Chapter of the Dearborn Women's Club, was in charge of the afternoon program. Hostesses from the club, Marie Eidt, Lori Kondzer and Nancy Swearingen, presided at the tea table.

Guided tours of the home were given by Onnalee Wall of the Women's Study Club of Belleville who is a member of the Girlstown Board of Directors.

State officers attending were

Mary Ferguson, first vice-president, and Janice van Blaricom, state parliamentarian of Girlstown.

The purpose of the Harvest Day is to give all members of some 500 women's clubs in Michigan the opportunity to visit Girlstown and see one of their main projects first hand.

A handmade quilt, the work of Adrienne Groves, which is being raffled at the MSFWC Convention, was on display. Tickets for the April drawing are now on sale by members of the Women's Study Club of Belleville.

Step right up, ladies and gentlemen, to 'Under the Big Top' bazaar Nov. 3

Featuring a special children's booth where only those under sixth grade may shop from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. on Nov. 3, "Under the Big Top" promises to be a festive Christmas bazaar day.

Set at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville, 417 Charles Street, the bazaar will offer shoppers many Christmas items for completing their gift lists. Many crafts, a plant section with unusual varieties, handwork including aprons, linens and knitted and crocheted work; greeting and Christmas cards (some from Methodist Children's Village), attic treasures and baked goods will be on sale.

Available at the extra special candy booth will be fancy molded candies, coconut bon bons, chocolate-covered cherries, peanut clusters and other eye catching choices to satisfy anyone's sweet tooth.

A popcorn machine will add to the "big top" atmosphere as will clowns and colorful balloons for a youngsters' pleasure.

An "S" luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. with carry outs available. Diners may choose any or all of the "S" offerings: soup, sandwich, salad or sweet.

Beginning at 5 p.m., the Come Doubles club will serve family style spaghetti with meat sauce, fresh salad, garlic bread and home-baked pies — all for the reasonable price of $2.50 for adults and $1.50 for senior citizens and children under 12. A special family rate will be available at the door. Tickets are for sale at the church office, from all circle leaders and at Kureth's, the Deering Agency and Roberts Bros. Furniture Store.

Demonstration activities throughout the day will include macrame, chair caning and dried flower arranging.

Baby sitting service will be provided free of charge for more leisurely shopping.

Co-chairing the annual event are Karen Carlson and Helen White. Avis White and Millie Keelan are handling the luncheon details.

Quotes worth quoting ...

"You can make more friends in one week by becoming interested in other people than you can in a year of trying to get other people interested in you."

"Dear Abby" said it.

'Under the Big Top'

A circus atmosphere has been created for the bazaar to be held throughout the day Nov. 3 at the First United Methodist Church of Belleville. Carol Thorne (left) will take on the role of a clown which, along with balloons galore, should appeal to youngsters attending. Karen Carlson, (right) who is co-chairman of the festivities with Helen White, points out just a few of the many items which will be available for Christmas shoppers from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m.

Honeymoon at Niagara Falls, Poconos follows autumn rite

A 10-day honeymoon in the Pocono Mountains of Pennsylvania and at Niagara Falls followed the Oct. 1 wedding of Patricia Jean Flavell and Robert William Tator, both of Belleville.

The First United Methodist Church of Belleville was reserved for the five o'clock wedding ceremony which united the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick T. Flavell of 43 S. Biggs Street and the son of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Tator of 365 High Street.

The Rev. Joy Arthur presided at the double ring rite before some 150 relatives and close friends. Organist for the occasion was Mrs. Gwen Ashe.

Escorted up the aisle by her mother and father, Patty appeared in a toe-touching gown of ivory antique organza. The fitted bodice was designed with a Victorian neckline, clear bishop sleeves and full skirt which drifted into a chapel length train. Cluny and venise lace enhanced the high neck, bodice and sleeves which ended in wide cuffs at the wrist.

The lace motif was repeated on the full-length illusion veil which was caught to a little cap of lace and seed pearls. Adding contrast to her bridal ensemble was the cascade bouquet of dried wood flowers, German statice, white baby carnations and dried fern tinted blue-grey to match the blue in the honor maid's outfit.

Kathleen O'Connor of Belleville, the bride's best friend, donned an A-line gown of pale peach polyester crepe fashioned with a keyhole neckline and topped with a soft chiffon cape in a pale peach and blue floral print. She pinned matching daisy mums in her hair and held a nosegay of peach and rust colored daisy mums.

Wearing similar gowns in rust with rust and peach floral chiffon capes were Cheri Kalasz and the bridegroom's sister, Sharlene Tator, both of Belleville, and Barbara Grenay of Flint.

The junior bridesmaid, Lisa Hamilton, cousin of the bride, and the 8-year-old flowergirl, Colleen Keefe of Manchester, wore pale peach frocks accented with ribbon-threaded ivory lace.

Serving as best man was the bride's brother, Frederick J. Flavell of Belleville. Groomsmen were Richard T. Flavell of Ypsilanti, brother of the bride; Kenneth Nollf of Lansing; Douglas French of Warren, Ohio and David Hamilton of Belleville, cousin of the bride.

When the receiving line formed in the foyer of the church following the ceremony, Mrs. Flavell greeted guests in a long coral polyester crepe gown with a matching tapered cape. Mrs. Tator chose for her son's wedding a medium blue crepe gown with a matching chiffon cape which fell to the knees. Both mothers were honored with daisy mum corsages.

The dinner-dance reception, held in the Burgundy Room of the Knights of Columbus Hall in Wayne, was attended by some 200 guests including the bride's two grandmothers, Mrs. Rachel Hamilton and Mrs. Lily Flavell, both of Belleville, who also were presented with corsages.

The new Mr. and Mrs. Tator, who are employed at Hydra-Matic Division of General Motors and Elias Brothers Big Boy, respectively, are making their home at 70 Bedell St., Belleville.

The rehearsal dinner at the Flaming Pit in Ann Arbor was given by the bridegroom's parents. Special guests for the occasion were Maurice Tator of Albany, N.Y.; Dorothy Stok of Harrington Park, N.J.; Mr. and Mrs. Louis Keefe of Manchester; Mr. and Mrs. Lynne Hamilton of Belleville; Mrs. Kenneth Nollf of Lansing and Mrs. Richard Flavell of Ypsilanti.

Noeffs see great-grandson during visit to Pittsburgh

By Mrs. Joseph Spring 699-4021

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nollf of Edison Street recently returned from Fairfax, Va. where they had spent a week with their son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Nollf and family. Enroute home they stopped in Pittsburgh, Pa., to get acquainted with their new great-grandson, Michael Alan, son of the Randy Nollfs, and grandson of the Alan Nollfs.

Recent dinner guests at the Denton Road home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle were relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hoyt of Orlando, Fla., Mr. and Mrs. John Hoyt of Mt. Pleasant; Judy Hoyt of Chicago, Ill. and Mr. and Mrs. Don Hoyt and small son, Mathew David of Saline.

Belleville Mayor and Mrs. Justin Emerson of Madelon Street spent several days this past week with their son-in-law and daughter. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Groeschner and family, at Norwalk, Conn.

Edna Mae Florian of Liberty Street has had the honor of being appointed chairman of the Obituary Committee of the Grand Chapter of Michigan, Order of the Eastern Star.

Funeral services for a former Liberty Street resident, Mrs. Rose

Anderson, were held on Wednesday, Oct. 19, in the Chapel at the Methodist Home in Chelsea with burial at Union-Edell Cemetery on Textile Road. Mrs. Anderson, who had been a resident at the Methodist Home for several years, passed away Oct. 17 at the age of 95 years.

Mrs. S.C. Pierman of East Huron River Drive was a weekend guest of her sister, Mrs. Lewis Pierman at Ottawa, Ohio.

Belleville senior citizens who took advantage of the Michigan Society of Senior Citizens' 3-day trip and color tour to Mackinac Island were Mr. and Mrs. Archie Reinsider of Madelon Street, Mrs. Muriel Bearance and Mrs. Dorothy Westergard, Mrs. Velma Kulzer and Mrs. Margaret Saunders of Liberty Street, over the recent weekend.

With headquarters at the Grand Hotel, they thoroughly enjoyed visiting the many interesting places on the island.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Deering of West Columbia Avenue have received word of the birth of their first great-grand child, an 8 lb. 5 oz. baby girl, Stephanie Ann. Born Monday, Oct. 17 to Mr. and Mrs. David Rider of Saugerties, N.Y., the baby's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Otto Lindemann of Buffalo, N.Y.

Mrs. Henry Sager of West Columbia Ave. returned home on Monday of last week after having attended installation of officers at Grand Chapter sessions at Grand Rapids on Oct. 13, and spending the weekend with a niece and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roger Fritsma, and other Grand Rapids relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. George Maki of Quirk Road were weekend guests of relatives in Des Plaines, Ill. where they attended the wedding of Mrs. Maki's sister, Dorcas Rundblom, to Kenneth Dillion at the Good Shepherd Lutheran Church Oct. 22.

Grave side services were held on Oct. 13 for Eugene I. Burke Jr. at Hillside Cemetery with the Rev. David Lee, pastor of Trinity Episcopal Church, officiating. A former Belleville resident, Mr. Burke passed away Oct. 11 at Riverside after a lengthy illness.

After having attended the Grand Chapter sessions at Grand Rapids Oct. 10-13, Mr. and Mrs. Walter James of Clay Road, spent the weekend with friends, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Christenson at Croton.

Marvin Meerse of West Columbia Avenue spent several days last week with friends in Milwaukee, Wisc. and Chicago, Ill.

A relative, William (Rusty) Brewster, a member of the U.S.A.F., was an overnight guest last Wednesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Welt of Willis Road. Brewster, who had finished his basic training at Lackland base in San Antonio, Texas and spent his leave at his home at Kingston, N.H., was enroute to his new base at Denver, Colo.

Mrs. Vivian Griffy of Reynoldsburg, Ohio, has been a guest this past week of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Kemp of Belleville Road.

Rebekah members who were in attendance at Rebekah Assembly held at Grand Rapids Oct. 16-19 were Rose Ann Bazelle of Westland, delegate Lucille Reinhackel, Carolyn Sherwood, Juanita Akers, Mae Fielder, Effie Kerbyson and Mr. and Mrs. James Goble.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Nollf of Edison Street were guests last week Sunday of their son, Dale and his fiancée, Lorel Wolf, at Kalamazoo.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mericle of Denton Road were weekend guests of the former's sister, Mrs. Paul Hoyt and family, of Clinton.

BPW observes special week

National Business Women's Week, first celebrated by the National Federation in 1928, honors working women and their place in society. The Belleville Business and professional Women's Club (BPW) met at the Red Apple Restaurant for breakfast Oct. 16 to open the special week.

Twenty-two members and guests (including four husbands) enjoyed a breakfast of their choice. They then went to the First United Methodist Church of Belleville where they participated in the "Great Day of Singing".

Earlier in the month, Dorothy Schroeder was selected as "Woman of the Year" and she, too, participated in Sunday's opening celebration. Other activities were planned and carried out throughout the week locally, statewide and nationally in order to continue the tradition started in 1928.

Tips on caring for ti plants

The Ti plant (Cor-dyline terminalis) — often called the Hawaiian Ti or Good Luck Plant — is a member of the lily family that is often confused with the Dracaenas.

Like some members of the Dracaena family, it has long, broad, shiny leaves, often clustered at the end of a cane-like stem. Some of the cultivars of the Ti have plain green leaves while they are young and brightly colored foliage in shades of red and brown as they get older. Others remain green all their lives.

Michigan State University horticulturists advise potting the Ti in a standard houseplant potting soil with provisions for good drainage. Water whenever the soil surface begins to dry to keep the soil around the roots moist, but not soaking wet, at all times.

Place the pot where it will get indirect light from a sunny window. Though they will tolerate semishady conditions, the colorful cultivars will have better color in bright light. There will also be less likelihood of lead drop.

Warm temperatures — a night minimum of 62-65 degrees F and 80-85 degrees during the day — and high humidity are the ideal. Ordinary home temperatures are adequate, but dry air will cause the lower leaves to fall off.

Merkel-Wilson repeat vows at double ring ceremony

A rust and peach color scheme was used at the candlelight ceremony Sept. 17 which united Robin Wilson and Jerry Merkel in holy matrimony. The five o'clock ceremony at St. Paul's Lutheran Church in New Boston was witnessed by some 300 relatives and friends.

Parents of the young couple are Mr. and Mrs. John Wilson of 14230 Lenmore Dr., Belleville and Mr. and Mrs. John Merkel of 18000 Elwell Rd., Belleville.

The double ring rite was read by The Rev. Paul Richert before an altar appointed with cathedral roses, white and peach carnations and sprays of greenery surrounding tall white tapers.

Mrs. Daniel Richert was at the organ to present a program of traditional and contemporary music including "The Wedding March" as the bride and her father made their way up the aisle.

Given in marriage by her parents, Robin was gowned in silk organza over satin. The white princess style dress was fashioned with fingertip sleeves, a lace bodice and an empress neckline frosted with tiny seed pearls. The seed pearling was repeated on the deep lace ruffle which banded the cathedral-length train.

Her lace-edged veil of silk illusion drifted to fingertip length from a circular lace headpiece studded with seed pearls. Completing her bridal finery was a bouquet of cathedral roses, peach carnations and baby's breath centered with a single white orchid.

As her sister's maid of honor, Lori Wilson donned a peach chiffon gown in the princess mode with a deep V-neckline and full circular chiffon cape. Complimenting her dress was a peach picture hat trimmed with white lace and ribbon and a bouquet of cascading cathedral roses, white and peach carnations and baby's breath.

Except for their hats, which were white, the quintet of bridesmaids appeared in identical peach ensembles. The bridegroom's three sisters, Dorri, Chris and Fonda Merkel; the bride's cousin, Kim Eichold, and a close friend, Jill Wiese, made up the bridal coterie. For her role as flowergirl, Pam Bradley, the 4-year-old daughter of Mrs. Pat Bradley of Belleville, donned a peach frock which was a miniature version of the senior attendants' dresses. The small basket she held was filled with cathedral rosebuds and baby's breath tied with peach satin ribbon.

The bridegroom chose Brian Weise of Belleville to serve as best man. The corps of ushers included Mike Osburn, John Sakewski, Roger McDaniel, Terry Bradley and Kerry Morris, all of Belleville. The bride's brother, John Wilson, was honorary usher. Ringbearer was Mike Jackson, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Jackson of Belleville.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Wilson selected a sleeveless mint green polyester gown with a matching embroidered jacket and accessories. The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Merkel, wore an off-white polyester gown with a short accordion pleated chiffon cape which had been made for her by the bride. Both mothers were honored with orchid corsages.

Following the ceremony the wedding party left the church in six 4-wheel drive vehicles for the trip to the PNA Hall where 325 guests waited to congratulate the newlyweds. Among those attending the wedding and dinner-dance reception were the bride's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Wilson of Murray, Ky.; the bridegroom's grandparents, Mrs. Melissa Merkel and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Dorr of Harrisville, as well as relatives and friends from Ohio, Kentucky, Illinois and the Upper Peninsula.

The 4-tiered wedding cake, designed and made by Mrs. Barbara Brendtke, was her gift to the young couple.

A honeymoon trip across the country to San Clemente, Calif., where the Merkels will make their home, followed.

The bridegroom, a 1973 graduate of Belleville High School, is currently serving as a lance corporal with the U.S. Marine Corps at Camp Pendleton.

The new Mrs. Merkel graduated from Belleville High School in 1977 and prior to her marriage was employed at Elias Brothers Big Boy in Belleville.

The rehearsal dinner held at the Holiday Inn of Romulus was hosted by the bridegroom's parents, the John Merkels.

Retiree feted by 135 guests

By LEE SMITH
Suburban Living Editor

Walter Krakowiak was the surprised guest of honor Oct. 16 at a retirement party given by his daughters, Florence Cornell, and her husband, Peter, of Belleville, and Chris Sullivan of Southfield. His three grandchildren, Debbie, Denise and Jennifer Cornell, also had a hand in planning the celebration.

Held at the PNA Hall, the party included a full course dinner and dancing with a special decorated cake to mark the event. Some 135 relatives and guests came from Warren, Detroit, Westland, Jackson and neighboring cities for the two-to-six festivities. Traveling from Elkton, Minn. especially for the occasion were the honoree's wife's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Neuirth. Other special guests were Walter's God-mother, Frances Dalida of Detroit, and his 85-year-old mother, Mrs. Catherine Krakowiak of Sherwood Road.

Drawing a lot of attention and bringing back memories was the huge poster which had been constructed by the two hostesses who used family photographs and those of their dad from the time he was 7-months-old to the present. Peter, Florence and Chris also wrote a special song for their dad and sang it during the afternoon.

Walter, who was born and raised in the Sumpter-Belleville community, lives at 49631 Willis Rd., Belleville, with his wife, Florence. He retired recently after 30 years with the Ford Motor Company in Ypsilanti. Prior to that he was employed for 13 years at Chrysler Motor in Detroit.

Coopers are a busy twosome

Arriving home after an absence of two weeks, Mrs. and Mrs. Arjay Cooper of Romulus settled down for just two days before departing on another trip.

The first, taken in their motor home, was to Atlanta, Ga. where they attended the wedding of their granddaughter, Sue Ellen Crosby, and Bryan Michael Thomas on Sept. 17. While in Atlanta they were houseguests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Crosby, and also spent time with cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Tracey Wills and Mrs. and Mrs. Lester Sheridan in the same city.

On their return home they attended a birthday party for Mrs. Cooper's sister, Mrs. Alice White, in Utica then embarked once again for Grand Rapids. Away for only four days this time, they were part of a family get-together at the home of cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Donald La Salle, who entertained in honor of out-of-state guests, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Quanton of Minneapolis, Minn.

The Coopers are now at home and looking forward to their trip to Florida after Thanksgiving dinner with their family.

Relatives celebrate birthday

Clara Dunyzcan was the honored guest recently at a birthday party planned as a surprise by her daughter and son-in-law, Joan and Michael McDaniel of Belleville.

Among the 30 guests attending were Edward and Jean Wenderski of Detroit; and Frances Korgal, the Pete Korgal family, the Jimmy Schultz family, Henry and Stella Golka, Mike and Ann Dunayczan, and Walter Dunayczan, all of Belleville.

The afternoon party on Oct. 4 included a buffet lunch and all the usual birthday goodies.

Savage School PTO organized

Heading the agenda for the Oct. 3 meeting of the Savage Elementary School PTO was election of officers for the 1977-78 year. Named as the very first leaders of the new school's parent-teacher organization were Beverly Hansor, president (from left); Faith Schellenburger, secretary; Karen Berch, vice-president; Jennie Prohaska, treasurer, and Paul Smith, teacher representative. Also highlighting the session was the presentation of a $100 check from the Elwell Elementary School PTO to help get the new club rolling. The next meeting of the Savage PTO will be at 7:30 p.m. on Nov. 7. All interested residents are invited to attend.

Three interesting and informative workshops have been scheduled for late October and early November at the Ypsilanti Center of Washtenaw Community College at 214 North Huron Street in Ypsilanti.

The first, a photo workshop, will be held from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m. Oct. 29. Thomas Clough, WCC photography instructor, will conduct the session.

There will be emphasis on picture-taking, composition, lighting and types of film. No darkroom work will be included in the class.

The fee is $10 with senior citizens admitted free of charge. Advance registrations are requested.

Instruction in macrame will be given by Zane Olukalns, arts and crafts teacher, on several different dates.

There will be instruction in various knots, techniques, materials and designs for making belts, wall-hangings, plant holders and hammocks. Creativity, inventiveness and enjoyment will be stressed in this modern view of an ancient craft.

The workshop will be presented from 7 to 9:30 p.m. on Oct. 28 and Nov.

4 (two sessions); at the same time on Nov. 8 and 15; and from 1:30 to 4 p.m. Nov. 7 and 14. The fee for the entire program is $7 including materials. Again, senior citizens will be admitted free of charge and advance registrations are requested.

Eunice Phillips will be the instructor for a creative pattern design workshop to be held Nov. 1, 3, 8 and 10 from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

The session will teach theseamstress the basic techniques of flat-pattern designing. A method by which a simple pattern is changed or modified by specific directions to create a pattern for a chosen design will be demonstrated.

Participants will be shown how to restyle out-of-date patterns, adapt commercial patterns to personal preference and make one's own patterns. Bring scissors, scotch tape and a small ruler to the first class.

The fee is $15, free to senior citizens. For advance registration, please call 482-2230.

Connecticut 'Salt Box' relocates in Dearborn

One of the finest examples of an American salt box home of the early 1700s has been given to Greenfield Village by Mrs. C. McGregory Wells of Union, Conn. It is expected that its relocation in the village will be completed in time for it to be open to the public in the spring of 1978.

In accepting this historic home and its period furnishings, William Clay Ford, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Edison Institute which administers Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum, and grandson of institute founder Henry Ford, recognized Mrs. Wells for her generosity in supporting the continued development of this world's largest indoor-outdoor collection of Americana.

He noted that the home and its furnishings are valued at nearly $1 million and are the largest gift to be received by the institute in recent years.

The salt box will join 20 other historic homes in Greenfield Village and will provide visitors with a more comprehensive view of the evolution of the American home, Mr. Ford explained.

Acquired by Mrs. Wells in 1951, the salt box was moved 35 miles from its original site in Andover, Conn., to Union, Conn., where it was restored and furnished with 17th and 18th century New England furniture and accessories. Its weathered clapboards, central stone chimney, tiny windows and five fireplaces are typical of Connecticut salt boxes. Salt box homes were so named because their "lean-to" construction created a side profile that resembled the shape of boxes that were commonly used to store salt. Inside the home features wide sheathing, some of which reveals faint designs left from 18th century wallpaper, and bedroom and kitchen panelling in the original faded red paint.

The home has been disassembled with each piece carefully marked and is being re-erected next to a mid 17th century windmill that was moved to the Village from West Yarmouth, Mass., in 1936.

First timers

Cynthia Dozier and Mark Robbins are making their first appearance at the Hilberry Theatre in the title roles of Shakespeare's "Romeo and Juliet", which officially opens at the Wayne State University Theatre at 8:30 tonight. The new production will continue in the repertory through February. For information and tickets, contact the theatre box office at 577-2972.

Mrs. Debacker likes food, soap operas

By MAUREEN BEATTY

Until recent years, senior citizens were for the most part regulated to lead sedentary lives. Often cared for by their married children, their activities were limited to the home and family. Thankfully, this is no longer true.

Today as never before, seniors are taking part in activities outside the home. Some are working for the betterment of mankind in general, while others are accomplishing small every day tasks that brighten the lives of those around them. Because we feel that all our seniors deserve recognition for a job well done, and in hopes of bringing more awareness of our "over 60" population to the general public, we at the "Associated Newspapers" have been featuring a "Senior of The Month."

Our October "Senior of the Month" is Elizabeth Debacker of Canton. Elizabeth will be 87 years young this coming November. A native of Belgium, she was the oldest in a family of six children. As the daughter of a small town blacksmith, Elizabeth enjoyed a happy childhood.

While still in Belgium Elizabeth completed high school and two years of college. Schools were different in Belgium, according to Elizabeth. The mornings were devoted to academic studies, but in the afternoons the girls were taught homemaking. Elizabeth learned to knit at the age of six.

Julius Debacker came to this country in 1914. In 1920 he returned to Belgium to visit his mother. During that visit he met Elizabeth. They soon married, and Julius brought his bride back to America.

Elizabeth did not then begin the kind of life every young girl dreams about. A Belgium priest had made arrangements for Elizabeth and Julius to live up north in St. Nicholes, near Escanaba. With other Belgium refugees, they were to start a settlement in the woods. Elizabeth found herself living in a log cabin sans such luxuries as running water. Besides raising her children, Elizabeth's daily chores included hauling water in for cooking and washing, milking cows and working in the fields. Elizabeth recalls that potatoes were then selling for 19 cents a bushel. In 1927, seven years after she had arrived in America, Elizabeth and Julius moved to Canton Township.

Senior of the Month

Elizabeth lost a daughter, Germaine, in 1947, and her husband in 1966. She has also lost her five brothers and sisters, but in spite of these tragedies, Elizabeth feels that life is good. She is thankful for her two living daughters who "are two good kids who take good care of me."

She fills her time by making beads, knitting, and crocheting. Her finished products are lovingly given away to friends. Elizabeth also is a soap opera fan. Her favorites include "Love Of Life" and "As The World Turns". Another favorite show of Elizabeth's is "Bowling For Dollars".

Her first loves though, are eating and flying. About eating she remarked: "I eat anything and all day. Nothing bothers me."

When asked about flying she replied: "When someone says let's fly, I'm ready." An island off Holland, Burmuda and Florida are a few of the places she has flown to recently.

Last year Elizabeth went to Mackinac Island for three days with the "Michigan Recreation and Parks Association." While there, she was honored as the oldest woman in the group of approximately 400 senior citizens. Elizabeth says that when they handed her the microphone and asked her to speak to the group, she thought she would have a heart attack. But one can tell, while she is talking about the event, that she was extremely pleased to receive the honor.

I'm pleased to have had the honor of meeting Elizabeth. She is a lovely woman who is admired by all who know her. I hope she gets to fly again real soon. Elizabeth has two daughters;

Adrian Malbring of Ann Arbor and Madelyn Vuncruysse of Plymouth, three grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

VAN BUREN TOWNSHIP WATER DEPARTMENT

Attention Van Buren Residents

Due to increases of materials and labor, water tap fees have been increased at a Township Board Meeting held on September 27, 1977, with the following stipulations:

1. Present homeowners without water taps: An opportunity until December 27, 1977, for present residents with existing homes to apply at the previous rates. At time of application the homeowner will be required to pay 25 percent and the balance to be paid within nine (9) months from date of application. At that time, a certificate of fees paid will be issued to the homeowner. When the homeowner desires to hook up, certificate presented to the water department will be honored. If the total fee is not paid within this period, all monies paid to that date will be returned to the homeowner and future applications by that homeowner will be based on the new fee schedule.

2. New owners, developers, and new construction after the above Township Board action of September 27, 1977, are subject to the following schedule.

WATER TAP: This increase takes effect September 28, 1977, subject to the above conditions:

Size of Service	Size of Meter	Tap Charge
3/4"	3/4"	$560.00
1"	3/4"	615.00
1"	1"	655.00

Franklin forces Glenn to share title

Cifor rushes for record-breaking 200 yards, 2 TDs

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Jerry Cifor, out of a football uniform, isn't a very conspicuous individual.

Unfortunately for Westland John Glenn, when the 5 feet, 7 inch 168-pound Livonia Franklin junior puts on his battle gear he becomes something else.

Cifor crushed Glenn's dreams of a third Northwest Suburban Conference football championship Friday night as he rushed for a record-breaking 200-yards and scored two touchdowns to give the visiting Livonians an impressive 17-7 victory over the defending champs.

The victory forced Glenn to share the championship with the Patriots. Both teams brought the curtains down on a 3-1 conference season.

Tom Mooradian, Sports Editor

wouldn't field a team this season because of money problems, however a 11th hour decision by the state to give financial aid to the Garden City School District saved varsity sports.

It was the third consecutive year that Glenn has either won or shared the championship; Franklin has owned the title four times outright and shared it at least five times.

The Livonians remained the Rockets' nemesis as they have now beaten their league rivals 13 of the 14 times they have met on the gridiron.

"I know it may sound like a cliché," Franklin's Armand Vigna said, "but our victory over Glenn was a complete team effort. It was one of the most physical games we've been involved in recent years as there were at least eight players - four from our team that were injured."

"Glenn has an excellent defense and everyone knew that they were in a game that night."

Glenn's Chuck Gordon concurred with Vigna's conclusions, "that it was a hard-hitting, physical game."

"I felt that Franklin played extremely well," Gordon added. "I also felt our kids didn't play the kind of game necessary to win a championship."

Cifor's 200-yard rushing performance -- he carried 29 times -- eclipsed the previous record of former all-area halfback Dan Quinn who amassed 179 yards against Garden City East in 1974. Cifor also set a new record for the number of Franklin rushes when he was called upon 29 times. That shattered Jim Casey's previous mark.

Franklin got the first break early in the first quarter when Glenn was forced to kick into the wind after failing to pick up a first down during their first series of the game. A 13 yard Glenn punt gave the Patriots the ball on the Glenn 33.

On the first play from scrimmage, quarterback Mike Fry surprised the Rockets' defense and slipped through with a 25-yard gain, then he picked up three more before handing off to Cifor on the third play which ended with the running back's first touchdown - from five yards out.

Don Boka kicked the extra point. "I felt that that series was a crucial one for us," said Gordon. "We played catchup from there and didn't make it."

Defection

By TOM MOORADIAN
Sports Editor

Redford Union is defecting from the Suburban 8 Conference to the Northwest Suburban Conference next year.

And a chain reaction of speculation about what school or schools will fill the gap vacated by the defector has caused another round of headaches.

But, before R. U. leaves it left a bad taste in Belleville's mouth Friday night.

Redford Union wanted to compete as a league affiliate in the Suburban 8 next year. At this late date it would be very difficult for it to schedule games. (Most football games are scheduled two and three years in advance.)

However, league officials informed Redford Union Friday they are welcome to play against its former league rivals...on a non-conference basis. That leaves Redford Union as an "independent."

So what the R. U. football team did was to hammer Belleville into submission during the Tiger Homecoming Friday night.

"I don't know what they were trying to prove," said Tom Fielder, Belleville assistant football coach. "We knew that they got the message that they wouldn't be competing for the championship next year, so apparently, they wanted to take it out on us."

Redford Union shut out Belleville 31-0.

"Last year we scored 18 points in the first half against them and pulled most of our kids in the second half," Fielder continued. "The score ended that way 18-0 and obviously it could have been a lot worse. I'm happy we will get another shot at them next year."

Fielder pointed out that, "though R. U. beat us, we made it easy for them by playing our worst game of the year."

Though the Michigan High School Athletic Association doesn't stage a state cross country championship for girls, the girls didn't let that stop them this year.

They got together, some 400-strong over the weekend in Pottersville, southwest of Lansing, and staged an unofficial state championship.

"We didn't fare too well," said Glenn Coach Jerry Szukaitis, "but we weren't expected to. This is the first season for us in that sport for girls."

"However one of our girls, sophomore Melissa Ropeck finished 30th in a field of 400 and that was pretty good," Szukaitis revealed. Since when has Glenn been involved in girls' cross country?

Szukaitis said that some of the girls approached him earlier in the season and said they were interested in competing, so we let them work out with the boys' team.

"And they did all-right."

Glenn's 5-girl delegation to Pottersville also included Marcia Maness, Ruth Cunningham, Tina Cook and Nancy Leeper. Like the boys, the girls also have to run three miles -- and that's a pretty long ordeal for anyone.

Szukaitis said, he plans to stage an invitational next year to popularize the sport in the area.

"I hope to recruit a few more girls next year and, who knows maybe we'll be a power in that sport someday," the veteran Glenn coach added.

And let's wrap up the week's with a couple of letters from our readers.

DEAR MR. MOORADIAN,

As a member of the community of Belleville, I would like to bring a complaint to your attention about sports coverage of our local teams.

We don't think you're giving our Belleville teams enough recognition, especially junior high school and junior varsity sports. Very seldom do our Tigers win a game, so when they do it's big news in these parts and what do we see as headlines always -- either John Glenn or Wayne Memorial.

Please don't forget about us out here. Our junior varsity team needs recognition, too.

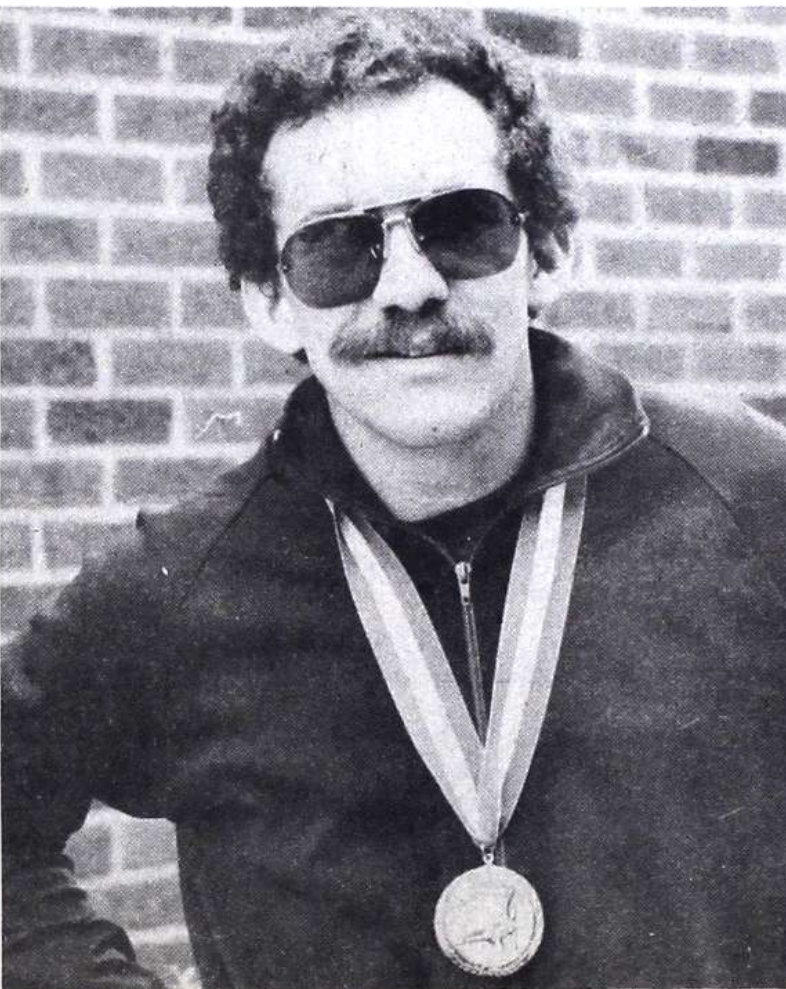

Sincerely,
Cindy Thomas.

Dear Miss Thomas,

I would like to give every boy and girl who goes out for sports recognition, however, space limitations prevent me from doing this.

As much as I would like to cover junior varsity athletics, we don't have the number of pages or the manpower at present to do so.

Tim Masters is probably wondering where he went wrong. The former Cherry Hill athlete started in baseball and looked as if he would have a bright future in that sport until he decided to change to the marathon -- a grueling 26 miles, 385 yards sport. Recently he finished 22 out of a field of 419 runners at the annual Belle Isle meet.

Cherry Hill athlete runs in Marathon

Tim Masters is a former Cherry Hill baseball star. And, while in high school, he says, if anyone would have approached him and said he would become a future marathon runner, Tim says he probably would have replied, "You're nuts."

But that is all in the past for the 29-year-old employee of Reed & Carnick Pharmaceuticals. He has competed in four Boston Marathon races and recently finished 22nd in a field of 419 at the annual Belle Isle Marathon.

"We had beautiful weather for the race," Masters revealed. "It was 42 degrees but there was a 15 to 20 miles per hour wind in the back stretch of the island."

Masters finished the 26 miles, 385 yards competition in 2 hours, 38 minutes and 31 seconds. He figured that it came out to 6:02 per mile which was off two-hundredth of a second off the pace he originally had set for himself.

"The wind in the back stretch was just too stiff for me," Masters said.

Masters' performance knocked off seven minutes from the best he's ever run that distance.

A 1972 graduate of Eastern Michigan University, Masters trains by running 100 miles per week, including two 27 mile workouts.

"I'm going to attempt a 50-miler in December in Toledo in December," Masters said, "so I'm building up to that."

There were at least four other area distance runners who took part in the 15th annual Motor City Marathon. They included Canton's Mike Baker who finished 158th (3:17.18), Westlanders Steve Coffman, 177 (3:22.08) and Warren Troy, 284 (3:56.10) along with Garden City's Art Kitz who finished 225th in 3:37.21.

Tough act to follow Wood replaces Haney as head coach

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

John Wood has a difficult act to follow. And he knows it.

Wood, a former All-Area wrestler who was a member of Westland John Glenn's initial graduating class in 1966, was named last week as Wayne Memorial's head wrestling coach.

The 29-year-old Wood replaces Don Haney, one of the most successful high school wrestling coaches in Michigan. Haney's "Wolfpacks" have won the Great Lakes 8 Conference titles since the league's inception five years ago, also numerous regional and invitational championships along with the coveted Class A state championship in 1975.

"Replacing one of the finest high school coaches in the state is going to be very difficult," Wood said. "It is a challenge to say the least."

"However, Don has left me with an ample inheritance of excellent wrestlers and I'm looking forward to the job."

Wood has served as an assistant wrestling coach to Jim Stallings, the former Romulus High mentor. When Stallings accepted the job at Trenton, Wood went along as an assistant.

This is Wood's inaugural head coaching responsibility.

"Wayne certainly has a fine program and Haney's wrestlers have been recognized as fine athletes and gentlemen."

A native of the Wayne-Westland area, Wood attended Wayne Memorial until he was a senior then was transferred to John Glenn when the Westland high school doors opened up.

He wrestled for Coach Bob Lusk and helped the Rockets build a Northwest Suburban dynasty. Wood earned All-Area consideration for his efforts.

An Eastern Michigan University grad, Wood also competed in the 150-pound class for the Hurons. He also coached at Vaparaiso University in Indiana.

Wood says he is looking forward to the first week in November when the Michigan High School Athletic Association sanctions official practice. He does see one obstacle, however.

"The one serious problem is that I'm not a teacher in the building (Wayne Memorial) and not being there I won't be able to handle the day-to-day problems that may come up," Wood said.

Winner takes all

Glenn runners out to prove they're best

BY TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Three teams that covet the Northwest Suburban Conference cross country title will have an opportunity to prove that they are deserving on the honor.

Westland John Glenn, Garden City East, the defending co-champs, and Redford Thurston all have amassed 3-1 records going into this final week of league competition.

The Northwest was to determine the championship Tuesday at Cass Benton Park.

"The winner will take all," stressed Glenn Coach Jerry Szukaitis. "We lost to East by one point but came back to defeat Thurston and Livonia Franklin, so it's really going to be one of the most interesting meets in the league's history."

Capturing the first three places for the first time this season, the Westlanders turned back Livonia Franklin 22-35 to stay in the chase for the title. Mark Johnson led the Rockets with a 16:16 effort on the Franklin course. Glenn was assured of the victory when Rocket runners Jim Kancelerz (16:20) and Jim Barber (16:21) nailed down the second and third place finishes, respectively.

Glenn also was seventh with Steve Chambers (16:29), ninth with Randy Gabrys (16:45) and 10th with Tom Andrews.

Franklin's top runner was Rob Klinefelter, who toured the three-mile course in 16:24. Franklin was also fifth and sixth with Jeff Reich (16:26) and Wally Niemiec (16:28) while Dave Dawson (16:35) and Matt Killinger (17:02) were eighth and 11th.

Livonia Franklin coach Bob Holmes, entering the conference championships with a 1-3 record, said his Patriots may surprise some of the teams, but definitely conceded that the championship will go to one of the front runners.

Glenn will join Wayne at New Boston Huron's Willow Park for the Class A regional on Saturday. And Szukaitis said that Wayne definitely will be the team to beat.

"And, personally I don't see anyone beating them there."

Szukaitis figures that the runners-up spot will be a battle between Dearborn Edsel Ford and Adrian while Fordson and Adrian will have to be beaten out for the last qualifying spot, third place, by Glenn if the Rockets hope to make the trip to Grand Rapids, the site of the Class A state finals.

Since there are seven regional sites, there will be 21 teams represented at the state in each of the four classes.

Huron QB Pichan is key for 3rd conference victory

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

A resolute New Boston Huron defense and quarterback Randy Pichan's passing and kicking enabled Coach Tom LaBeau's Chiefs to even up their conference record at 3-3 at the expense of Airport.

Pichan booted a 24-yard field goal and passed to Greg Hinojosa for a 53-yard scoring play which proved to be the difference in a 10-0 shutout over Airport Friday night.

"We played an exceptional defensive game," LaBeau said. "Everybody contributed to this victory."

Huron's defense, spearheaded by Mike Bossory, a middle guard and linebacker, held Airport to three yards passing and 90 yards rushing. Airport piled up five first downs as compared to the Chiefs' 10 and both teams were penalized five times for 30 yards.

Huron got on the board after a Airport turnover in the first quarter. After kicking off to their visitors, the Chiefs recovered a fumble on the third play from scrimmage at the Airport 35-yard line.

Pichan managed to move his team to the 14 yard line where the drive stalled. The Chiefs decided to go for the field goal and Pichan made good on the 24-yarder, staking the Chiefs to a 3-0 lead.

That Huron lead stood up until the third quarter when the Chiefs increased the margin on a stunning screen pass and run play. Pichan, on a third down and short yardage situation, caught the Airport defense napping and connected on a short pass to Hinojosa who eluded a couple of would-be tackles and went 53-yards for a touchdown.

"Greg did a fine job on that play," noted LaBeau.

"However, our offense really didn't get untracked in this game. We didn't move the ball at all in the first half and that one touchdown play was really our only big threat of the evening."

Kelly Summerfield paced the Chiefs' ballcarriers as he rushed for 90 of his team's 174 yards. Summerfield carried 22 times. Teammate Fred Block picked up 68 yards on 16 carries and Pichan connected on two of his six aeriels for 74 yards.

"The key in this game was that we managed to control the ball in the last quarter for approximately eight of the 12 minutes," LaBeau said.

Huron will take on one of the three teams tied for second place - Flat Rock - Friday night in its final game on the road this season. Flat Rock, which has compiled a 4-2 record, shares second with Monroe Jefferson and Monroe Catholic Central.

"Flat Rock is coming off of a big 7-6 victory over Catholic Central," LaBeau pointed out, "and, though they aren't as big as some of the teams we have met this year, they have a lot of speed and determination. For example, Central had nearly twice the amount of yardage as did Flat Rock, but Flat Rock made theirs count."

Huron will wrap up the 1977 campaign a week from Friday at home against Woodhaven, a team that failed to win again this year in the Metro-West Conference.

Spartans' title plan shattered

Crestwood, coveting its first football championship in the history of that Dearborn Heights high school, shattered Cherry Hill's dreams of sharing the Tri-River Conference championship this year.

With five minutes remaining in the game, Cherry Hill fell apart and dropped a 27-8 decision to the Chargers who need to beat Garden City West Friday to tie Melvindale for the title.

"The last five minutes of the game we fell apart," said Cherry Hill coach Jerry Pawloski. "We were in it until then, then the roof fell in on us."

The Spartans had their problems in the air again this week as Crestwood cashed in on four interceptions, one resulting in a 65-yard touchdown return by Tom Gerdn with only 10 seconds left in the first half.

Cherry Hill got on the scoreboard in the fourth quarter when they cashed in on an errant center for a two-point safety.

After the ensuing kick, the Spartans cut further into Crestwood lead, making it 15-8 on a screen pass from quarterback Rusty Duncan to Darryl Gallant that was good for an 80-yard touchdown. Cherry Hill elected to go for the two-point conversion and fell short.

The spirited Crestwood contingent came right back and scored on Gary Perrelli's second TD of the evening, a 13-yarder that took the sails out of the Spartans' ship.

Then, Cherry Hill gave up still another touchdown when Frank Berry recovered a ball that flew over the kicker's head and landed in the end zone.

Crestwood held the edge in first downs 10 to 6, while both teams hit on four of 10 passes. The Spartans were penalized five times for 25 yards as compared to Crestwood's seven infractions for 45 yards.

Gallant led the Spartan defenders with seven tackles and two assists, including a sack of the quarterback. Linebacker Wayne Nichols also had a good evening as he intercepted a pass, had two assists and five unassisted tackles.

Cherry Hill winds up the league phase of the season Saturday at Southgate and Pawloski is concerned over the improving Saber team.

"They're coming off their first victory, a 23-6 win over Schafer," Pawloski said, "and they are a vastly improved club that likes to throw the ball. We're going to have to sharpen up our offense to get some points on the board."

Churchill runners head for regional

With their conference title in jeopardy, Livonia Churchill prepares for the stretch run of the 1977 campaign. Coach Dave Westover's Chargers will attempt to qualify for the Class A state finals Saturday.

They'll travel to Royal Oak Kimball in hopes of placing among the top three in a field of 21 teams. The top three teams, along with the top 10 individuals will advance from the regionals at the state final that will be staged a week from Saturday in Grand Rapids.

"The teams we're going to have to keep our eyes on are Farmington and Stevenson," Westover commented. They'll be tough and probably are the teams to beat in our division.

And, from then on it's a wide open race with Franklin, Bishop Borgess and Brother Rice along with ourselves in the thick of the battle for the third qualifying spot."

Churchill, the only cross country champ the Western Six Conference has known for the past seven years, carried a 3-2 record into Tuesday night's conference championships at Cass Benton Park. The Chargers suffered its first losses in the league this season with Northville and Waterford Mott tarnishing the Livonians' record.

Churchill wrapped up the dual meet league phase of the season last Thursday by slamming Plymouth Canton, 15-48.

Tobin Jones, Churchill's premier runner, churned a 16:17 first place. Then Bob Stansbery (16:57), Dennis Flamme (17:02), Ken Gaskell (17:24), and Kevin Paul (17:50) were the next runners to hit the wire.

Churchill also placed seventh with Steve Yerks (17:57) and Dennis Sears (18:01), respectively.

Canton's top effort came from Flescher who was clocked in 17:55 for the three miles. Hennels was ninth for the Chiefs while the next three runners, McGlinn, Danberkel, and Hinckley finished 10th, 11th and 12th, respectively.

Wayne harriers capture UM-D title

Wayne Memorial's explosive runners reasserted themselves as one of the top teams in the state as Coach Ernie Righetti's Zebras trampled a field of 17 to capture the 1977 University of Michigan-Dearborn campus cross country Invitational.

The results of the invitational were based on the total times of five runners and Wayne compiled 78:41 to outdistance their rivals which included a highly-regarded Farmington contingent and Howell teams. Farmington and Howell each had 79:54 totals, finishing second and third, respectively.

"The victory was a good warm-up for the pending state meets," noted Righetti whose team is undefeated in 1977. "But I still feel that we haven't reached our potential. We are still better than we have shown."

Rick Blaha kept his personal winning streak alive as he shattered the UM-D course record for the three-mile with a 15:16 run. Blaha led teammate Doug Tolson across the finish line. Tolson's second place time was recorded as 15:40. Wayne also finished sixth with Paul Spencer (15:40) and 10th with Ron Mason (15:48). Tim Quantance rounded out the Zebra foursome, covering the course in 16:46.

Wayne will travel to New Boston Huron Saturday to compete in the Class A regional. The Zebras must place in the top three among 20 teams in order to qualify for the state finals which will be held a week from Saturday in Grand Rapids.

Righetti feels his team has an excellent chance of surviving the regionals, in fact he is determined to win it.

"I feel we have the manpower to win the regional title," Righetti said. "I would be surprised if we didn't."

Crestwood runs past Cherry Hill

Cherry Hill's five year reign as the Tri-River Conference's cross country king may be coming to an end.

Defeated by Schafer earlier in the campaign, Coach Joe Grasley's Spartans dropped a crucial 23-32 decision to undefeated Crestwood, setting up the Dearborn Heights team as the title favorite.

"It was really a big victory for us," said Crestwood Coach Pat Gregory. "Though we beat Cherry Hill last year, our team fell apart at the conference meet."

Crestwood nailed down first and second places with seniors Tim Barr and Gerry Dufresne who finished in 14:50 and 15:09, respectively.

Barr's time was a record for the Cherry Hill course.

Cherry Hill responded with a third place finish as sophomore Ramon Lara toured the 3-miles in 15:36. Teammates Keith Leverton was fourth in 15:37, followed by Mike Michno (sixth), Scott Johnson (ninth), John Ireland (10th) and Jim Bodner (11th).

The Tri-River Conference championship will be decided on November 1 when the seven teams, minus Taylor Kennedy which didn't field a squad because of cutbacks, will get together in Rouge Park.

The Spartans will be seeking an unprecedented fifth successive league title.

Who me?

Better known for her achievements on the tennis court, Robin Walker (at right) was tossed for a loop Friday night as the announcement was made that from the officials that she would reign as Wayne Memorial's Homecoming Queen. Her Zebras however couldn't come through with a victory for their surprised newly-crowned queen. They lost to Toledo Whitmer.

Shooting for cage title

In the thick of the Tri-River Conference title chase, Cherry Hill's girls' cage team has high hopes of realizing their dreams this year thanks to a line-up made up of Julie Alcover (first row, from left), Cindy Lillie, Kelly Sheahan,

Whitmer ruins Wayne homecoming

Zebras get last chance Friday to win in league

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

Next time maybe Wayne will pick on somebody its size.

It selected Toledo Whitmer, one of the larger high schools in Ohio to replace Wyandotte on its schedule, and the visitors didn't waste any time spoiling the night for Coach Floyd Carter's Zebras and a huge homecoming crowd.

Scoring twice in the first quarter thanks to gifts by the Wayne offense, Whitmer went on to hand their hosts a 21-0 setback.

Whitmer was picked to replace Wyandotte, a Great Lakes 8 Conference affiliate when the league rivals dropped football because of economic cutbacks.

"We helped with our own demise," Carter said. "But let's not take anything away from the Toledo team — we played one heck of a ball club."

Wayne, loser of its last four games, will have a last chance to win a league game Friday night when it clashes with Riverview. The Pirates have always been a thorn in Wayne's sides on the gridiron.

The game's outcome will have no bearing on the championship as Fordson, with a victory over Lincoln Park last week has earned the 1977 championship.

Wayne appeared powerless against the Toledo invaders in the initial minutes of their inaugural confrontation. Though Wayne got the opening kickoff, they gave up the ball on the Toledo 23-yard line when Jim Bigby intercepted quarterback Mark Korte's pass.

Toledo moved 77 yards in four plays, aided by two offside penalties and one facemask infraction, to the Zebra 22 where Terry Bowers scampered around end for a touchdown with 7:33 left in the quarter.

Lonnie Meridieth kicked the extra point, giving Whitmer a 7-0 lead.

A Wayne fumble after the ensuing kickoff set up Toledo's second touchdown.

Dave Bogart recovered for the visitors on the Wayne 10-yard line and two plays later Greg Barney teamed up with Chuck Steele on a 12-yard touchdown pass. Meridieth again kicked the extra point, lifting Toledo into command 14-0.

Wayne's defense buckled down and held Toledo scoreless until midway in the fourth quarter when the visitors drove 41 yards in seven plays after receiving a punt and scored on a Barney-to-Meridieth pass that covered 13 yards. Meridieth again made good on the extra point attempt.

Wayne had several good opportunities to avert the shutout but couldn't cash in on them. In the second quarter, behind the running of Mike Wilson and Jeff Galvan the Zebras marched from their own 19-yard line to the Toledo eight and the threat dissipated when Korte slipped on an option play and lost five yards. Korte then tried a pass and Wilson let the elusive ball get away from him in the end zone.

Toledo took over on down and escaped damage by punting.

Despite the lopsided score, Wayne had a couple of defensive standouts in Neil Schroeder who counted 10 initial tackles and eight assists and also caused a fumble, along with Chris Leverenz who accounted for eight solos and seven assists.

Korte connected on five of 16 passes for 45 yards with Mark Zerna on the tailend of two of those aeriels, while Ed Turbeville, Barry Parker and Larry Vojtkofsky each getting one.

Wilson and Korte each had 10 rushes and they produced 54 and 50 yards, respectively.

Wayne's defense had its problems with Joe Zeller who amassed 107 yards on 14 attempts and Bowers who finished the night with 102 yards on 17 rushes.

Running for the Golden Shoe

A fresh flock of Wayne Memorial and Westland John Glenn harriers bolt from the starting block in quest of the "Golden Shoe", the prize awarded to the winner of the sophomore cross country race between the two arch-rivals. Wayne managed to maintain "the shoe" for the second year in a row as Coach Ernie Righetti's Zebras outdistanced the Rockets 27-32.

If it fits...

Wayne runners retain 'golden shoe'

The "Golden Shoe" can reveal a lot to Wayne Memorial cross country coach Ernie Righetti and his counterpart at Westland John Glenn, Jerry Szukaitis.

A worn-out sneaker, the "shoe" is emblematic of sophomore cross country supremacy between the two Wayne-WestlandCommunity School District high schools.

Though Westland has dominated the first races, established nearly eight years ago, Wayne made it two in a row over the Rockets last week to retain the shoe and the title.

The race wound up close, a 27-32 victory by the Zebras who weren't expected to win it this year.

"I really thought they would take the shoe back this year," Righetti said. The Wayne coach was a member of the first sophomore team to compete for the battered footwear.

The meet can tell the coaches a lot about their future prospects. Both teams appear amply stocked with runners for the next two years.

Wayne's Doug Tolson beat Glenn's Jim Kancierz to the finish to provide the Zebras with a first place. Tolson's teammates also finished fifth with Jim Zerna, sixth with Andy Stopchinski, while John McDermott (seventh), Steve Smith (eighth), Don Wellman (ninth) and Steve Michalowski also contributed to the victory.

Glenn's finishes include: Tom Andrews (third), Martin Shelly (fourth) and Robert Hall (11th).

Glenn gets past Churchill

Sweeping the backstroke event, Westland John Glenn broke open a close girls' swim meet to jar Livonia Churchill 96-76 in a nonleague dual last week.

With the score 64-62 after eight events, Glenn took the first three places in the backstroke and the lead for good as Lisa Curnutte led teammates Kelly Lang and Denise Arbini to the finish.

Miss Curnutte's winning time was posted as 1:17.0, a performance duplicated by Miss Lang. A judge's decision determined the winner.

However, Churchill had the frontrunners as they captured nine of the 11 first places. Jeanie Gessler and Karen Turner accounted for two events each as Gessler was clocked in 2:10.5 for the 200-yard freestyle and turned in a winning time of 1:11.2 for the 100-yard butterfly.

Miss Turner covered the 50-yard freestyle in 28.3 and won the 100-yard breaststroke in 1:23.8.

It was Glenn's fifth victory in seven starts and the Rockets will begin the second round of Northwest Suburban League competition Thursday night at North Farmington.

North is the defending champ but lost to the Rockets the first time around.

"They're tough and will be out for revenge," Mrs. Garbus stressed.

The meet will begin at 7 p.m.

Cougars end season at Romulus

With their freshmen and junior varsity units sporting 6-1 records and the varsity carrying a 2-1-4 record, the Belleville Cougars will bring down the 1977 Western Suburban Football League season Sunday against the Romulus Flyers at Romulus beginning at 1:30 p.m.

The Cougars swept two of three games last week against the Ypsilanti Braves as the freshmen emerged on top of a 20-6 victory; the junior varsity stopped their arch-rivals, 19-7, while the varsity succumbed 20-6.

Mike Cameron and Mike Beckley were the standouts on the freshmen squad as Cameron scored on runs of 70 and six while Beckley scampered 54-yards for a touchdown and also contributed the point-after.

Cameron and Beckley stood out on defense.

In the junior varsity duel, the Cougars got on the scoreboard when quarterback John Dillon teamed up with Tom Uminsky on a 15-yard touchdown pass. Eric Ball scored the extra point to provide the Cougars with a 7-0 lead.

Then, the winners made it 13-0 when Brock Migg tallied from 8-yards out while Richie Umin plunged from the one to account for the final touchdown. Umin, who doubled on defense in the secondary, Ron Smolen, also at safety, and Migg contributed to the success of the Cougar defense.

The Varsity just couldn't get its offense going and struggled most of the evening against its counterparts, dropping a 20-6 decision.

The Cougars averted the shutout when John Smolen scored from the five-yard line for their lone touchdown.

Sam Villa is coaching the Cougar freshmen unit this season, while the head coaching responsibility for the junior varsity is being handled by Clayton Cameron. The head coach for the varsity team is Harold Ballinger.

Wasn't Rockets' night

With the championship at stake, John Glenn's Rockets couldn't muster enough offense and failed to stop rampaging Livonia Franklin running back Jerry Cifor Friday night. And the end result was that the Westlanders had to settle for a half of the Northwest Suburban Conference football title; the other half went to Franklin by virtue of a 17-7 victory over the defending champs.

Westlander is Babe Ruth 'Athlete of Year'

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

A 15-year-old Westland ball player has joined the elite Base Ruth Baseball "Athletes of the Year" club.

The recipient of the accolades is Herbert McManaway, of 8348 Donna.

Managed by Philip M. Boland, McManaway is considered one of the finest all-around players the Westland Babe Ruth program has produced.

"In addition to his athletic ability, Herb displayed outstanding qualities of sportsmanship and personal leadership," Boland said, "both on and off the field. He never let his temper override his good judgment. He never displayed a discourtesy against his opponent. He was instrumental in picking the team up in moments of misfortune and he gave the team a sense of spirit to forge ahead."

"And, finally, he was very helpful in rendering advice and in teaching the fundamentals of the game to the younger members of the team," Boland said.

McManaway helped the Westlanders capture the state Babe Ruth championship. He led the team at the plate with a phenomenal .667 batting average and he clubbed two homers, one that measured 345 feet over the right center field fence.

Herb also belted seven triples, six doubles and led the team in RBI's with 31. He was the starting catcher when not on the mound, and could play just about any position. He batted left and right-handed and...

Nominations for 'Athletes of the Year' were made earlier this summer by Babe Ruth league managers and presidents from across the nation. They were invited to nominate candidates with the best records of local achievements on their teams or in their leagues.

Criteria by which these local baseball players were nominated include the athlete's athletic ability, including statistics and over-all performance, sportsmanship and personal leadership displayed during the current season.

To be eligible for the program, a player must have been an active participant in an officially recognized Babe Ruth League during the 1977 season.

Sponsored by Babe Ruth International, 'Athletes of the Year' is an annual honor roll playing tribute to the team players from the world's largest regulation baseball activity for young people. The purpose of the program is to promote and encourage the playing of amateur Babe Ruth Baseball among young athletes between the ages of 13 and 18 by nationally recognizing each team's outstanding players of the current season.

The athletic achievements of each local honoree will be presented in the 1977 edition of Babe Ruth Baseball Athletes of the Year Annual to be published in December. This chronicle of the youth baseball season will be presented to the Baseball Hall of Fame at Cooperstown, N.Y. for permanent display.

Former Romulus High All-Area griddier Daryl Gooden earned "Player of the Week" accolades at Grand Valley College for his defensive effort against Ferris State. Gooden blocked a punt and collected 14 tackles.

Looking good at Grand Valley

A year ago, Daryl Gooden of Romulus and Will Roach of Grayling had never heard of each other, let alone seen each other play football.

This year the two athletes are teammates at Grand Valley State College, and this week both were named Laker 'Plaers of the Week.'

Gooden, a senior and four-year letterman at GVSC, was named the outstanding defensive player.

He had 14 tackles against Ferris State, blocked a punt and returned the ball three yards.

"Daryl has put together solid back-to-back performances at defensive tackle," said Greg Satanski, Grand Valley's defensive coordinator.

Gooden's season totals include 22 solo tackles and 20 assists.

Roach, a talented freshman halfback, entered the game in the second half. He rushed for 50 yards on 9 carries, but most of his yardage came on the Lakers' final drive in the fourth period when he converted three of his rushes into first downs.

In five games this season, Roach has run the ball 49 times for 280 yards and one touchdown with a 5.7 average per carry.

Grand Valley (2-3) will host Saginaw Valley (3-3) Saturday in an important Great Lakes Conference battle starting at 1:30 p.m.

Spartans lose to cage champ

Cherry Hill's gals got a shot at Schafer, the undisputed Tri-River Conference cage league leader, and fell short.

Leaping to a 12-2 first period lead, the Spartans led at halftime 22-19, before Schafer rallied to a 45-37 victory.

The loss left Cherry Hill with a 3-2 conference record.

The Spartans wasted an excellent all-around performance by Julie Price who dumped in a game high 16 points. Teammate Gwen Northout chipped in with 10.

Miss Price sank 30 points and Northout accounted for 18 as the Spartans hung on to a 63-58 league victory over Southgate earlier in the week.

"I felt our performance against Southgate was our best of the year," said Linda Wheeler, Spartan mentor.

After hosting league rival, Melvindale, Tuesday night, the Spartan girls will hit the road to Garden City East for a nonleague game scheduled for 7 p.m.

Grissom's World

Trout fishing is addictive

By SAM GRISSOM
Outdoor Writer

Five hours and seventeen minutes and still not a thing.

But I did have a little excitement 20 minutes back. Took off my right glove to get another wiggler from my wade bucket, and then I got to chase it downstream until it disappeared over the edge of the coffer dam.

Bump. Bump. Bump. I watch the telltale bounce of my rod tip for an indication of a hit. "Boy, this winter steelhead is exciting..."

Suddenly the end of the long rod stops bouncing.

Lift the rod tip...remember, easy now...the line's only two pound test...tighten the line...set the hook...FISH ON!

In an instant the line takes off, the reel's drag screams in protest as a big buck steelhead gets mad and heads downstream. Leaning back, I keep the rod as close to parallel with the water as possible, allowing the pistoning effect of the long limber rod to halt the fish's run.

Just when I think I won't be able to stop him he turns and comes straight back at me. Cranking like mad, I forget about how cold I was just a few moments ago.

After three more changes of direction, he finally rolls within easy reach of my net.

As I start to net maybe 14 pounds of silver-sided fury, I realize that in my freezer he won't be half as beautiful as he is now. Lifting the rod tie sharply the two pound test line breaks and I watch him slowly swim away.

Just before he drops from view I vow, "I'll see you again..."

Maybe this winter stream fishing for steelhead is nuts, but what other sport is as rewarding?

Quinn top Tartar

Dan Quinn, former Livonia Franklin running back who led the Patriots to a couple of Northwest Suburban Conference football championships, was named as one of two top players last week for Wayne State University's Tartars.

Quinn, a junior slotback, was named as the Offensive Tartar of the week, along with Warren-Fitzgerald's senior tight end, Steve Stasek.

AUTO FACTS

Flat-rate figures for shop work on your auto are based on studies of mechanics working under normal shop conditions. It may seem strange that flat rates drawn up by many manufacturers for their dealers' warranty work are almost always lower than those in the manuals published by independent organizations. A mechanic at a dealership will be working on a car that is relatively clean and rust free. He also will have special tools designed for work on the make of car the dealer sells. These factors speed up repair work — hence the flat rate times are lower.

For fast, efficient and reasonably priced machine shop service, visit KOSIN'S AUTO PARTS, 26831 Michigan Ave., Inkster! Our skilled machinists work on all phases of engine work and handle any type of engine — motorcycle, marine, industrial, agricultural, and automotive. We tackle the most challenging machine shop and engine repair problems. KOSIN'S also features a complete line of auto parts, accessories and tools for both foreign and domestic cars. # Franklin, Glenn share title

"I felt that that early play was the turning point of the game," Gordon said. "We were forced to play catch-up ball the rest of the evening."

But the Rockets got their chance to even up the score after an exchange of punts, but failed to cash in on the opportunity. Glenn's Jerry Cook recovered a fumble on the Patriots' 22-yard line with 3:32 left in the first quarter and quarterback Bill Lee settled down to business.

On the first play Lee chalked up three yards, then running back Tim Ruark ripped off four but on the third play fullback Paul Svabik got only one yard, bringing up a fourth down and two situation. Lee decided to go to the air and the aerial failed to find a receiver.

Franklin took over on their own 14-yard line.

Neither team could whip up a serious threat the rest of the first half and it wasn't until early in the third quarter that Franklin struck again. This time the Patriots put on one of its best marches, taking over after a punt on their own 25-yard line and going 75-yards for a touchdown with Cifor scoring from 21-yards out.

Boka kicked the extra point, lifting the Patriots to a 14-0 advantage.

An onside kick gave the visitors the back ball on the Glenn 36-yard line. The Patriots were stopped in the series which ended with Boka attempting a field goal from the 35-yard line. He missed the uprights.

Glenn had the ball for one play after gaining possession on its 20-yard line as defensive end Gordie Wheeler recovered a Rocket fumble at the Glenn 27 yard line with 3:57 left in the third quarter.

Glenn's Jim Irwin got into the act on the next series of plays as he erased the threat with an interception. The Westlanders took over on their own 40-yard line but couldn't capitalize on their good fortunes.

A 17-yard Boka field goal midway in the fourth quarter sealed Glenn's doom.

On the ensuing kickoff Glenn put together a five-play attack that led to their lone score. Lee startled the Patriots with a 40-yard bomb to Irwin which accounted for the lone Rocket score.

When Kai Deluca kicked the extra point, Glenn had only 5:01 left to muster up the remaining points — it tried an onside kick which ended up in Franklin's Ron Reeter's possession at the 49. With Cifor and Dave Bowen at the throttle, the Patriots marched to the Glenn 19-yard line where they fumbled and Glenn's Tom Jurewicz recovered.

Going to the air, Lee found the routes closed down and precarious as Wheeler again picked off a pass on the 35, but as he scampered toward the Rocket end zone nipped the out of bounds line and the touchdown was nullified.

Franklin dominated the statistics as the Patriots amassed 17 first downs, rushed for 302 yards on 57 plays and connected on one of two passes for 20 yards for a total of 322 yards.

In comparison, Glenn had 11 first downs on 31 plays and 123 yards rushing. Lee connected on eight of 12 aerials for 111-yards. The Patriots were slapped with four penalties for 40 yards and Glenn was tagged with five infractions for 55 yards. Franklin fumbled three times and lost the ball twice while Glenn fumbled twice, losing possession once.

Along with Cifor, Franklin received an excellent performance from Fry who carried 12 times for 55 yards, while the Patriots standouts included Steve Shuster, a defensive tackle, Mike Broome, a defensive end and Larry Acton.

Jerry Cook turned in his usual exceptional game on defense for the Rockets and Irwin was the recipient of six of Lee's passes, good for 80-yards.

Glenn clashes with winless Berkley Friday night in their final home game of the season and Franklin will play cross-town rival, Churchill, under the lights also Friday night.

Commenting on the Churchill game, Vigna said, "It will be a rough and physical game because these kids know one another and the south Livonia title is at stake."

Bulldog Blockage

Smelling title all the way, Robichaud's Bulldogs show charges overwhelmed the Red Raiders to win the Ecorse quarterback Derick Underwood (white jersey) just how tough their defense can be. Coach Bob Yauck's Suburban Athletic Conference crown and end a 17-year title drought with a perfect 4-0 conference record.

League-departing Redford rattles Belleville, 31-0

"We played our worst game of the season."

That's how Belleville coaches summed up the Tigers' disappointing 31-0 loss to Redford Union Friday night.

"Offensively we didn't do anything and when a team gets 299 yards off of your defense, then your defense isn't doing much either," noted Pat Stokes, Belleville's head football coach.

The loss left the Tigers winless in the Suburban 8 Conference and for the season. And with Trenton, seated in a three-way tie for second place with Dearborn and Edsel Ford, next on the Belleville schedule the Tigers will need a little miracle to stop their skid.

Redford Union, which will leave the conference to join the Northwest Suburban League next year, jumped to a 7-0 lead in the first quarter, tallied 10 points in the next 12 minutes and turned a 17-0 halftime advantage into a onesided 31-0 rout.

A couple of Belleville bright spots were the defensive performances by Brent Verrot who accounted for nine primary tackles and three assists and Stan Johnson's nine solos and five assists.

Kelvin Patterson continued to lead the Tiger offense as he piled up 61 yards in 17 carries.

"Kelvin has shown us more this year than he had a year ago, unfortunately he isn't getting the publicity because of our record," Stokes said.

As expected, R.U. also dominated the stats as the winners chalked up 13 first downs, rushed for 299 yards and passed for an additional 16. They fumbled once and was caught with six infractions for 50 yards. In contrast, Belleville had only five first downs, 83 yards rushing, 17 passing and lost two fumbles. The Tigers also had two intercepted passes and were penalized five times for 25 yards.

Northville eludes Canton in overtime

By TOM MOORADIAN
ANP Sports Editor

The hard-luck high school football team of the 1977 season?

The hard-luck high school football team of the 1977 season?

Plymouth Canton — hands down, than any around — and the 6-0 overtime defeat Friday against Northville last week exemplifies how things just haven't been gang right.

The loss left the Canton contingent without a victory for the year in the Western Six Conference and a 0-6 over-all record.

The Chiefs hope to snap out of their doldrums Friday night when they host Garden City East, a team that is coming off of a decisive win against their cross-town rivals, West.

Canton will have a homecoming crowd on hand in hopes of stopping Coach Gary Humphrey's Panthers.

"East is big and physical," warned Schuele. "And we have a lot of respect for any team that Humphrey coaches. He started late this year because of millage problems, but they are coming on strong like gangbusters."

Canton had its chances to upset the second-place Northville squad but didn't use them. They penetrated deep into Northville territory on three different occasions and had to settle for field goal attempts.

One of those attempts by Mike Nyheus hit the crossbar and bounced back — that was a 31 yard attempt. He also failed to connect from 40-yards out and in the extra period.

Northville settled the issue in overtime when John Miller lunged into the end zone from two-yards out on the second play from scrimmage.

Northville had won the toss and elected to go on defense. Gary Simons tried a dive up the middle on Canton's first play and a pitch-out cost the Chiefs five yards on the second play. A third down pass failed to find a receiver, so Nyheus attempted a 29-yard field goal which was partially blocked.

Northville's defense refused to bulge in the final period even after Canton put together a drive that put the Chiefs on and left them at the one-yard line.

Rusty Mandie was the Chiefs' sparkplug on offense as he rushed for 108 yards in 17 carries. Simons picked up 63 yards on 15 tries while Mandie also completed six of 11 passes.

The Chiefs went into battle without the services of three veterans — George Hamblin, who is sidelined with a broken hand; Pete Hewett, out with a similar injury and Mike Kiefer, who suffered a concussion the week before.

"You know we have been pretty erratic this year, but this was one game that everyone gave us 100 percent and I can't say enough about our defensive unit. They held Northville to minus three yards in the first quarter and 82 yards rushing for the evening," Schuele said.

Robichaud rules SAC grid world

For the first time in 17 years Robichaud has a championship football team.

Coach Bob Yauck and the Bulldogs ended their long frustrations Friday afternoon by crushing Ecorse 29-8 to capture the 1977 Suburban Athletic Conference title.

The Dearborn Heights gridders also posted their first undefeated conference season, amassing an enviable 4-0 record. They're now 6-1 on the season.

"I'm really proud of these kids," Yauck said. "I knew they had the potential of going all the way but it's something else when you actually reach the goal you have set for your team."

Yauck, in his eighth season as the head coach, will take his charges to Willow Run Friday night for a nonleague test which could determine if the Bulldogs will remain in the Class B chase for the region IV post-season playoff berth.

"Willow Run is noted for its speed and can really put the points on the scoreboard. We're going to have to sharpen up our game on offense to balance their explosiveness."

Robichaud scored early against the visiting Red Raiders as tailback Michael Morgan crushed through to the end zone from three-yards out. The touchdown was set up by a bad snap from center which Robichaud's Ralph Payne recovered on the Ecorse three-yard line.

Morgan also contributed the two-point conversion, staking the Bulldogs to an 8-0 lead.

The Dearborn Heights gridders increased that margin by a two-point safety in the second quarter when a second Ecorse bad snap sailed out of the end zone.

The two SAC rivals settled for a scoreless third quarter, then Robichaud erupted for 19 points in the final 12 minutes of the league season. A 25-yard touchdown pass from quarterback Alvin Carter to Mark Woodson polished off a mid-field drive for one of those scores and, after the ensuing kickoff Roger McGhee picked off a delinquent Ecorse aerial and turned it into a touchdown.

Robichaud also scored on the last play of the game as Carter and Daryl Goree hooked up on a 45-yard touchdown pass.

Bob Yauck, the coach's son, accounted for one of the two point after.

"Defensively we played well," Yauck pointed out. "We gave up only 50 yards and they had possession of the ball for 26 rushes. Plus our secondary intercepted three passes, bringing the total to 15 on the season."

Carter, who leads the secondary with five interceptions, got one against Ecorse while teammates

Payne and Reggie Upshaw collected the others.

One area where the Bulldogs must cut down is in penalties — they sustained 16 that cost them 115 yards. Robichaud had the edge in first downs 7 to 4 and the defense made sure that the Red Raiders' outstanding quarterback, Derick Underwood, didn't do them any damage. Underwood connected on a mere three of 13 passes and had problems moving his team against a pesky Robichaud defense.

Halloween necessity

Seven-year-old Eric Johnson (shown beneath flag pole) sits almost buried under the huge pile of pumpkins he and his grandfather, Felix Modzelewski, hope to sell for Halloween season. The pumpkins will be on sale at 20684 Sumpter Rd., south of Belleville.

All for a good cause

Shirley Woodruff, volunteer, and Bob Williamson, coffin used in recent Jaycee haunted house fund-raising project in Westland.

Learn bus safety rules

Students of the first three grades at Field Elementary School in Canton Township gather outside the school building to hear safety tips presented during the school's bus safety program in conjunction with National Bus Safety Week. The school is located at 1000 S. Haggerty Rd.

Future ice ballerinas

These four young lovelies were among the 180 skaters who performed in the third annual Wayne Department of Parks and Recreation ice show at the Wayne Community Center. Skaters (from left) are Karen McMurray, Cheryl Hoffman, Gail Good and Linda Kober.

How high the moon?

Maybe tender loving care was the reason. Whatever it was, this cherry tomato plant belonging to Mrs. Charles Horst in Westland's Holiday Park apparently went berserk, reaching a length of about 12 feet before it decided to stop growing.

Future motorist

Never too young to learn is illustrated by this energetic lad as he pedals his three-wheeled vehicle in bike parade at Lincoln Elementary School in Westland. Such activity is a good foundation for the motorists of tomorrow.
